RAIL WORKERS WIN WAGE INCREASE

CARRIER HEADS AND EMPLOYES SIGN PAY PACT

Managers and Labor Agree on Restoration July 1 of 2½ Percent of Wage Reduction, Another 2½ Per Cent January 1 and Final 5 Per Cent Next April 1.

WASHINGTON, April 26—(AP) — Railway labor and managements agreed today to a restoration of the full pay of the workers on April 1 1935.

In a compromise agreement after a long series of conferences between the Railway Labor Executives association and the conference committee of managers it was agreed that the 10 per cent deduction from the checks of the workers, which has been made for the last two years, should be gradually restored during the next year.

The employes will receive a restoration of 2½ per cent on July 1 of this year, 2½ per cent on January 1, 1935, and the remainder on April 1, 1935.

The agreement came after negotiations started March 15 apparently failed and Joseph B. Eastman, federal co-ordinator of transportation, had announced that his efforts at mediating the situation had failed. Eastman withdrew last Saturday and on Monday the managers and labor got together and worked out the compromise.

"We have joined in this agreement," said A. F. Whitney, chairman of the Railway Labor Executives association, "to comply with the wish of the president of the United States in the interest of national recovery.

"The agreement runs for one year and to this extent will stabilize wages on American railroads and give all concerned a breathing spell."

Thiehoff's Statement.

The following statement was issued by W. F. Thiehoff, chairman of the conference committee of managers:

"We faced the choice of reaching a settlement with employes or of carrying the wage controversy to a conclusion under the law with its attendant uncertainty and disturbing effects.

"In the interest of stabilizing the railroad situation now, so as to promote the national recovery program, we chose the former choice. In so doing we have been mindful of the consideration of national welfare pressed upon us by the president, of the untiring efforts of the federal co-ordinator of transportation to compose the situation and of the forebearance of those who have represented the employes."

HIGH OFFICE TO OMAHA WOMAN

Mrs. Talley Is Made President of Woodman Circle.

OMAHA, April 26—(AP)—Mrs. Dora Alexander Talley of Omaha, national secretary for 23 years, today was elected national president of the Woodmen Circle, sister organization of the Woodmen of the World, at a meeting of directors in Dallas, Tex. She succeeds the late Mrs. Mary E. La Rocca of Omaha, who died recently.

The post is regarded as one of the highest executive positions in any woman's organization in the country.

CLERGY PAYS FINAL TRIBUTE TO REV. CARAHER

Bishop Kucera Officiates At Rites Here For Heartwell Priest.

Surrounded by the clergy of the diocese in which he labored for 32 years and with Bishop Louis B. Kucera celebrating solemn pontifical mass of requiem Rev John C. Caraher was accorded the last rites of the Catholic church at the services Thursday morning at St Mary's cathedral. Msgr. P. L. O'Loughlin preached the sermon.

Rev. Caraher.

Rev. Caraher, who was the priest at Heartwell, died suddenly Sunday. He was 68 years old.

Knights Guard Bier.

The church was filled with relatives, friends and the sisters of various orders. The clergy overflowed the sanctuary, with some seated in the front of the church. The bier, resting just in front of the sancutary rail, was guarded by four Knights of Columbus and flanked on either side with three burning tapers Knights served as active pallbearers. Honorary pallbearers included Bishop Kucera, Msgr. O'Loughlin, the Very Rev. J Vanderhulst, O. S. C. X.; Rev. Francis Lombardi, Rev. Alois Reimbold, Rev. James Garvey, Rev. Morris Downey, and the Very Rev. E. Boll, and the diocesan clergy.

Msgr. O'Loughlin chose as his text the words, "You have not chosen me but I have chosen you; that you should go forth and labor and bring forth fruit" These were words of Christ when he chose the twelve disciples to be apostles. "Christ in choosing the 12 apostles choose men of ordinary talents," Msgr. O'Loughlin said "As we become associated more clearly with Christ we see that He chose the very weakest of men to be his apostles."

Wonder at Unchanged Nature.

TARIFF POWERS FOR ROOSEVELT URGED BY HULL

Republicans Accused Attempting Partisan Political Heckling.

DECLINES TO NAME ITEMS IN ADVANCE

Network of Obstruction Lies Ahead, Says Secretary of State.

WASHINGTON, April 26—(AP)—Secretary Wallace told the senate finance committee today that should the reciprocal tariff bill result in increasing foreign purchasing power for American farm products, which it is designed to do, it would enable the administration to curtail or discontinue entirely its emergency acreage control program.

WASHINGTON, April 26—(AP)—Republicans and democrats on the senate finance committee engaged in an old fashioned tariff joust today with the latter contending high tariff advocates were attempting "partisan political heckling" of Secretary Hull.

Hull was advocating passage of the administration bill giving the president authority to negotiate reciprocal tariff agreements when Senators Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, and Hastings, republican, Delaware, sought the particular articles on which duties might be reduced.

After Senator Conally, democrat, Texas had made the accusation against the republicans, Hull said it would be dangerous to mention any items in advance because of the rapidly changing currency and exchange situation.

"We don't want to count our chickens before they are hatched and out walking around," Hull explained.

Reed asked if it would be feasible to enter into trade pacts until international currency was stabilized.

Network of Obstruction.

"That is a network of obstruction that lies ahead," Hull replied. "Those adjustments are necessary, but if we wait to perfect monetary and exchange stabilization before undertaking economic rehabilitation, why in 90 days the present dislocated monetary and exchange situation would snap right back to where it is."

Asked by Reed if an industry would be granted a hearing before the tariff on its articles was cut and the industry "put out of business," Hull said:

"That is a rash suppostion that we will put an industry out of business. The president has that power now, as other presidents have had, to destroy many phases of our economic situation, but it is wrong to assume this power will be exercised arbitrarily or capriciously although other nations are doing the same."

The secretary of state refused to say definitely that hearings would be granted industries before tariffs were reduced, but did say they would be shown "every courtesy."

GIRL, 5, KIDNAPED IN MINNEAPOLIS

Man in Car Speeds Away With Child; Father Is Unemployed.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 27— (AP) — Mary Lou Carline, 5, was kidnaped shortly before noon today while playing near her home.

Neighbors told police a man in a large sedan stopped at the curbing, bundled the girl into the car, and drove off at high speed. All police cars in the city were warned to be on the lookout.

The child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Carline, could give no reason for the kidnaping. Carline is unemployed.

Mary Lou, her brother, Jimmie, and two companions were playing in front of a neighbor's home when the automobile drove slowly up and the driver beckoned to the little girl. Mary Lou and a companion stepped up. The driver spoke to them.

Her companion stepped back, but Mary Lou got up on the running board. The driver whisked her inside and slammed the door.

Police squad cars were called to comb the city for the kidnapers.

The Carlines have three other children, Leon, 8, Lois, 3, and Janet, 2.

Rail Wage Boost Aids Over 1,600 Men In Lincoln

Thursday's railroad wage agreement at Washington was good news to more than 20,000 employes in Nebraska and about 1,600 in Lincoln. Monthly salary rolls in Lincoln alone will be boosted from approximately $187,000 to more than $205,000.

The agreement was designed to restore the 10 per cent cut by three graduated stages with the first restoration of 2½ per cent to take effect on July 1. This will restore about $4,600 to workers' checks in Lincoln. Another 2½ per cent is due on January 1, 1935, and the final 5 per cent will be put on in April, 1935.

When informed of the agreement by The Star, employes were overjoyed. "That's the best news I've heard in a long time," seemed to be the theme song. Several individual workers called The Star during the morning to learn whether or not the agreement had gone through. One man sang, "Oh boy, oh boy, oh boy!"

TOWLE PLANNING QUICK TRIAL OF DEAN, RIVETTE

Conklin and Babb Cases Also On Docket For Next Two Weeks.

Several major criminal cases headed by the first degree murder action against Sam Rivette and Walter Dean for the death of Luceen Marshall, will go before District court juries during the next two weeks if plans on which County Attorney Max Towle was hard at work Thursday materialize in full.

Towle announced he is doing everything in his power to get the Rivette and Dean cases up for trial sometime next week. If trial can be held at that time, the fate of the two Texas ex-convicts probbaly will be determined within two weeks of the shooting with which they are charged, an unusual mark for speedy justice.

To Ask Death Penalty.

The death penalty is to be asked for Rivette and Dean on the theory that they are responsible for the death of the Marshall boy. The 13-year-old schoolboy dropped at Twenty-fourth and O streets last Friday noon, fatally wounded by a bullet which officers say has been identified as coming from a rifle fired from a car occupied by Rivette and Dean while they and a third gunman, Aubrey Ray, later killed, attempted to escape from Lincoln police.

Bound over to District court Tuesday of this week, the two men are held in the penitentiary for safe keeping. Copies of the information will be served on them there sometime Thursday, the county attorney said, and arraignment is planned before the close of this week. It probably will be necessary for the court to appoint an attorney to represent Rivette and Dean, since both men are apparently without funds or means to obtain them, Towle pointed out. There is a pos-

CRITICISM SPURS U. S. SLEUTHS IN DILLINGER HUNT

Widespread Vigil Kept; Many False "Tips" Investigated.

PURVIS PREDICTS BREMER SOLUTION

Mercer, Wis., Citizens Charge Raid Was Bungled.

EAGLE RIVER, Wis., April 26—(AP)—The search for John Dillinger and his henchmen who escaped from the Little Bohemia resort north of here in a gun blast Sunday night received new impetus today as agents traced the area about Boulder Junction, Vilas county, where one of the cars used in the escape was found last night.

The car was the one which George "Baby Face" Nelson used in his flight from Koerner's Spider Lake lodge after slaying W. C. Baum, department of justice operative, and wounding two other officers. It was found stalled in the mud of a little used town road about 20 miles east of Mercer and near the Michigan line.

One man walked away from the car, tracks indicated. Officers believe that Nelson may have taken refuge in the woods near Boulder Junction.

Developments in the last 24 hours in the hunt for John Dillinger:

More than 5,000 peace officers maintained their vigil, acting on some of the hundreds of "tips" on his whereabouts, without any apparent results.

Citizens of Mercer, Wis., where Dillinger and his mob shot their way to freedom last Sunday, circulated a petition to the department of justice charging the federal agents had "bungled" their job.

Reports were circulated that the federal men were gathering for a

Shooting Of Dillinger and Pal Revealed

St. Paul Health Officer Tells of Treating Wounds; Suspended.

ST. PAUL, April 26—(AP)—Suspension of Dr. N. G. Mortensen, city health officer, today revealed that both John Dillinger and his first lieutenant, John Hamilton, were shot and wounded while raiding either the Security National bank of Sioux Falls, S. D., on March 8, or the First National bank of Mason City, Ia., on March 13.

The uncertainty centered around the doctor's apparent confusion of dates. He thought he might have treated the gunmen before the Mason City holdup.

Dr. Mortensen was suspended after he had been questioned by department of justice agents and released.

Visit Doctor's Home.

It was revealed Dr. Mortensen was forced to dress shoulder wounds of the two outlaws when they came to his home He identified them from photographs. He said he received no fee for his services.

Dillinger was also shot in the leg here March 31 when he and at least two companions shot their way out of a trap in a St. Paul apartment. He was treated for this wound by Dr. Clayton E. May, Minneapolis physician. Dr. May and his nurse was now held on charges of harboring a criminal.

Dr. Mortensen said he had no thought the men were criminals until they were departing, when he caught sight of a machine gun under one of the men's coats. It was not until several days later, he added, that he had any idea they were wanted. They had told him they were injured in a Minneapolis gun fight.

F. Manley Brist, attorney for the Minnesota state medical board, this afternoon said there is no state law or city ordinance in Minneapolis or St. Paul requiring physicians to report to police cases in which they treat gunshot wounds.

NEW SOLUTION LINCOLN BANK HOLDUP HINTED

Federal Agents Active; Believe Information Given By LaRue.

Disclosures that may have an important bearing on the fate of two men now serving time in the Nebraska penitentiary, appeared imminent Thursday on the basis of reliable reports that department of justice agents are prepared to present a new solution to the sensational, $2,500,000 robbery of the Lincoln National bank here September 17, 1930.

Federal investigators, who have never ended their investigation of the world's biggest bank robbery, were spurred to greater activity with the arrest several weeks ago in Florida of Eddie LaRue, gangster now serving 10 years in federal prison at Leavenworth, Kas. Sought as one of the Lincoln bandits, LaRue vanished from sight two years ago after leading police a mery chase over a large part of this country and Canada.

New Gang Link Seen.

What connection LaRue's arrest may have had with the visit a month ago of a federal operative here could not be established definitely, but it was indicated that federal agents have obtained information from him of the highest importance. This information linked at least one man, previously arrested in connection with the Lincoln robbery, and later released, with a

PRISON FACTORY FACES SHUTDOWN

Suspension Is Expected Here Unless Code Is Changed.

OMAHA, April 26—(AP)—Nebraska's NRA office has been notified that under the code of fair competition for prison industries, convict labor is limited to 40 hours a week Nebraska is one of 48 states to sign this code The Omaha retail trade code authority has been notified that coded stores must dispose of all prison made merchandise before May 31 and will be barred from handling any thereafter unless by special permission

Mrs Nellie G Benson chairman of the board of control said that unless the prison industries code authority succeeds in obtaining adjustments of the code, the Nebraska prison shirt and trouser factory undoubtedly will be forced to shut down, throwing several hundred convicts into idleness.

TUCSON, Ariz., April 26—(AP)—A second ransom note was delivered today to Bernabe Robles, grandfather of 6-year-old June Robles, kidnaped yesterday, offering to reduce the abductors' demand from $15,000 to $10,000 "if you act quickly."

The delivery of the note was announced by Colby S. Farrar, Pima county under sheriff. He declined to divulge how delivery had been effected. It was signed only by the initial "Z"

The note follows:

"Child safe. We're willing to reduce ransom to $10,000. If you act quickly child will be returned safely as per instructions. Obey instructions."

Threats of Lynching.

TUCSON, Ariz, April 26 — (AP) — Groups of people, talking freely of a lynching if and when the kidnapers of little June Robles, 6 years old, are arrested, assembled around the Pima county courthouse today.

Authorities said they were not worried, but declared they would take precautions to prevent mob violence should the abductors be captured.

There was much agitation over the city as persons made their way to the courthouse and joined those already gathered.

Speeds Away in Car.

TUCSON, Ariz., April 26—(AP)—Kidnaped and held for $15,000 ransom, 6-year-old June Robles was sought today by the same police who captured John Dillinger and they were aided by scores of ranchers and grim-faced cowboys.

The little girl was abducted yesterday afternoon as she was returning from school. A man drove up beside her in an automobile, called to her and then speeded away when she entered the car.

Two hours later Rosalio Estrada, a small boy, brought to the girl's father, Fernando Robles, member of

Gnat Plague Kills Hundreds Of Head Of Arkansas Stock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 26—(AP)—The buffalo gnat plague spread over Arkansas today, killing hundreds of head of livestock and retarding farming operations.

Within a ten-mile radius of Cabot, near here, 300 horses and mules were reported by Mayor C. W. True of Cabot to have died in the last 48 hours.

More than 100 mules were victims of the deadly insects in the vicinity of Marvell, Phillips county.

The menace was reported from various sections as the greatest in many years.

The gnats, forming huge black clouds, carry death to livestock both through bites and inhalation. The only effective means at command of farmers for combatting the insects is to place the livestock in barns and use fire smudges to keep the gnats away.

With the planting season in full swing, this method means a virtual halt in farming operations.

DELAY CONKLIN TRIAL TO MAY 28

Defense Motions Force Postponement; Denies Perjury Charge.

Trial of Harry P. Conklin was tentatively postponed until May 28 under agreement by state and defense attorneys and conditionally accepted by District Judge Lincoln Frost Thursday afternoon. The trial had been set for May 7, but both sides gareed that argument of defense motions would make trial on that date impossible.

Conklin pleaded not guilty in District court Thursday afternoon to the perjury charge against him, but his attorney obtained court permission to delay until 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning the arraignment on the charge of conspiracy to defraud the state. Max V. Beghtol, Conklin's attorney, asked the delay for preparat on of a motion to quash the information.

County Attorney Max Towle asked Beghtol to present any other contemplated motions at the same time, but Beghtol said his client had the constitutional right to file the motions individually.

Towle and Attorney General Paul F. Good protested the postponement, but were overruled by Judge Frost. Beghtol also asked that the perjury case be tried first, but Towle and Good insisted that the conspiracy case would be first.

Steers Bring $8.40 On Omaha Market

OMAHA, April 26—(AP)—With continued strength in evidence and trading active, fed steer prices rose another 15 to 25 cents on the local market today. Top for choice steers averaging around 1,900 pounds was $8 40 a hundredweight, the highest price since October, 1932. August Peterson of Avoca, Ia., was the shipper. Another shipment of steers, from the Great Western Sugar company at Scottsbluff sold at $8 10 today, or 10 cents higher than anything on yesterday's market.

As Rogers Sees It

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., April 26—Most of the news in today's papers concerns Dillinger and Tugwell.

Mr. Tugwell is just one of the nicest and most pleasant fellows you ever met in your life, all of those brain trust fellows are. But don't let 'em start explaining something to you. They get you down with theorys, and then stomp on you with phrases. You start to raise up, and they will hit you in the face with a thing called "dogma." Mr. Tugwell knocked a pretty smart bunch over lately with a "pair of dogmas" called, "modernized process," and "experimental approach." Einstein couldn't have had 'em as mentally goofy.

3,500 Men At Work In Nebraska As $7,800,000 Federal Highway Building Program Set Underway

Nearly 3,500 men already are at work on highway construction jobs in Nebraska as the federal government's $7,800,000 road building program to furnish employment, moves into high gear under generally favorable weather conditions.

Excessive dryness has made finishing of grading jobs difficult but moderate temperatures and lack of moisture have permitted most other road work to go ahead rapidly and an Associated Press survey showed men were on the job in every section of the state.

Projects which have started this spring are more numerous in eastern and central sections but some work is under way in every region.

Build Tekamah Bridge.

In the northeast, work has begun on a bridge in Tekamah, on grading and culverts for paving in Neligh, on a bridge and grading in and south of Decatur, on grading and structures preparatory to paving between Dakota City and Homer, on grading and structures between Niobrara and Verdigre, between Elgin and Cummingsville, between Ponca and Willis and between Norfolk and Meadow Grove.

About a dozen projects are under way in east central counties A bridge west of Lincoln is nearing completion and work is being done within the capital on electrical work for new traffic lights West of Lincoln between Emerald and Milford, 37 men are at work on a grading paving and viaduct project.

Culvert work has started in Blair preparatory to paving where 30 men are working and nearly 50 men are employed on grading work north of Plattsmouth where bridges have been completed and a viaduct is 70 per cent finished.

MUNDT OUTLINES LEAGUE'S GOAL

National Conservation Plan Demanded By Walton Speaker.

"Conservation isn't an individual concern, but rather a national problem," Karl E. Mundt of Madison, S. D., national director of the Izaak Walton league, declared in addressing the annual banquet of the local chapter in the Lincoln hotel Wednesday night. More than 150 attended the meeting, which was presided over by Dana F Cole.

"Conservation by one or two individuals, working as they would be without a definite program, will never accomplish anything," Mr Mundt said. "We've got to have a national program, carefully worked out to its conclusion, so that we may know what the results will be It is for that purpose that the Izaak Walton league of America exists today. The cause of Waltonism is far from dead."

"The Izaak Walton league is the most unselfish patriotic organization in America," Mundt continued "for you see men, most of them past 35 or 40 years of age, working for conservation and for the propagation of game when they can't possibly live long enough to see the fruition of their work Our theme is to 'prepare and make better for the children' The theme of the destructionist, when he stripped the forests, polluted the streams and destroyed wild life, has been 'make way for the people'"

Motion pictures of Nebraska's streams and wild life, taken by the university department of conservation and by the state game and fish commission, were shown by William Lytle of the game commission, and Ira Kyle of Omaha

Among those attending the league banquet were Guy Spencer, Omaha, and J. B Douglas, Tecumseh, state fish and game commission members; Frank B. O'Connell, secretary of the commission, and Roy D. Owen, president of the Memphis, Neb, chapter, and seven other Memphis members.

Arnholt Empowered To Make Health Purchases

Health department purchases in amounts less than $25 will be made by Dr. M. F. Arnholt, superintendent, under an arrangement worked out by E. M. SILVER PROBE CALLED A DUD

Senate Bloc Presses Ahead For Action On Aid Proposals.

WASHINGTON, April 26—(AP)—The treasury's investigation of silver holders was characterized today by members of the senate silver bloc as "a dud"

Contending that the inquiry had failed to disclose any personal interest in silver by the leaders of the move to remonetize it, the bloc pressed ahead harder than ever for action at this session on its white metal aid proposals.

Senator King, democrat, Utah, chairman of the silver bloc committee, said that the senate-ordered probe by Secretary Morgenthau not only was "a dud" but that it had "exploded the idea that there was concerted activity on the part of those interested in silver to secure this legislation"

Little Desire For Further Probe.

King said that those who were most interested in silver legislation were not the big bankers and business men, but farmers, small business men, and laborers.

The "dud" characterization was challenged by few in the senate and there was apparently little desire for a further investigation such as suggested by Morgenthau.

Before laying the idea aside completely, however, administration senators awaited treasury submission of data on about 100 cases about which Morgenthau said there had been difficulty in obtaining facts

The silver senators contended the inquiry thus far had shown the biggest holders were banks and corporations which had a legitimate use for it.

Railway Engineer Fined $75 Failure Stop at Crossing

NEBRASKA CITY Neb., April 26—(AP)—John Rutherford of Falls City, Missouri Pacific railroad engineer, was fined $75 and costs in Police court Wednesday for not stopping a fr—ht train at a crossing here in c—liance with a new city ordinance He was arrested when he stopped the train in the railroad yards. The incident occurred recently, just a few days after the city council passed the ordinance, requiring all trains to stop at the crossing unless the railroad company keeps a flagman on duty there. The railroad has had a flagman on duty at the crossing since the arrest of Rutherford. The crossing is the intersection of federal highway 75 and the railroad.

Gandhi Attacked; Escaped Unharmed

BUXAR, India, April 26—(AP)— A rock smashed the windows of a car in which Mahatma Gandhi was riding today, but he escaped uninjured from a clash with persons opposing his campaign to assist India's untouchables.

It was the first time the Mahatma ever had been made the object of a physical attack.

Three nationalist congress volunteers accompanying Gandhi were injured in the attack, said to have been made by orthodox Hindus who bitterly oppose the Indian leader's long campaign to succor the oppressed classes.

Gandhi was reported today to be threatening to undertake another period of severe penance because of growing opposition to his movement for the untouchables.

Judith Lane

by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: The report that oil is being drilled for up stream a short way threatens to disrupt Judith Dale's effort to build the Rio Diablo dam according to Tom Bevins' plans, and with the five million dollars left her by Bevins for the purpose. She fears it is a feint to annoy her, engineered by Morton Lampere, who is trying to break the Bevins will in favor of Mrs. Bevins and her daughter. She fears too that a visit from Scoggins, who holds a key piece of land, may mean trouble: he talks about his wife's desire for pretty things.

Chapter 35.
PACIFYING SCOGGINS.

"Well, sir, then we looked in a store window and tnere was a dress all shimmerin' like it had fish scales on it," Scoggins went on.

"Sequins, they're called," said Judith, "little metal things that dvetail into each other"

"Well this one was a green one and Mamie she looked at it and then she looked at me and her eyes were chock-full of tears, just bein' happy. 'Ain't it grand?" she says.

"Next mornin' I made like I was goin' up to buy me a ceegar and I went to that store aimin' to buy that dress for Mamie if it took my roll. Whatcha think they asked for it? Two hundred and fifty dollars I didn't get it"

Judith appeared to be as shocked as Scoggins had hoped she would be, but beneath her sympathetic expression was worry. What in the name of goodness was the man leading up to?

"Miss Judith, I got a chance to git them things for Mamie, an git Tommy a car and send him to college, without waiting for trees to grow and him too old to go and Mamie too old to enjoy things. I got a chance right now.

"You know that piece a land I got that juts into your flood basin? There's oil there and I'm here to tell you, you cain't use it for water"

One trick that Judith had learned during her years as secretary to Big Tom Bevins was to maintain silence in a crisis, to let the other person speak first.

Judith felt that the fate of the Rio Diablo Dam hung in precarious balance as she sat watching Scoggins. Wihout his land there could be no dam, it formed a queer shaped snake's figure jutting far out into the flood basin

Big Tom's faith in Scoggins had been so complete he had neglected to gain his consent to its use in writing. Judith remembered calling his attention to it the night of their first vigil, but he had insisted such a procedure would be jeopardizing Scoggins trust in him, after Scoggins had refused such a big price for his land.

"Don't reckon you understood, Miss Judy," he began again, troubled shame in his voice. "I'm going to git oil on my land and I cain't if its flooded, see?"

"What makes you think there is oil on your land?" she inquired, with nothing but sympathetic interest in her voice.

"There's been a man there with a divinin' rod working about the place. To tell you th' truth, Miss Judy," he leaned close and half whispered, "there's a great lake of oil underneath this here valley, yes sir, just like they've got up to Longview."

"Strange the man didn't want to purchase it from you," she mused.

"He did," was the quick answer, then loyally, "but I promised Big Tom I wouldn't sell to nobody."

Judith repressed a smile at the unintentioned satire of his remark—"and then what did he say?"

"That he'd sink a test well and take a percentage for the sinkin' if I'd see the place didn't get flooded."

"And how was that to be brought about?"

Just Business!

Scenes like this from films in which they worked together may cause the hearts of Crawford-Tone fans to pump a little faster, but to Joan the tender scene is just business. She has stilled tongue Dame Rumor by announcing she will not marry Franchot Tone or anyone else while she is in pictures.

"He said he'd go to court for me and git an in-an in—"

"Injunction," offered Judith to whom the word was fast becoming a nemesis.

"Yes that's it, a court order he explained, keepin' you from going ahead with your work until we could prove there's oil there"

"Is he going to do that?" Judith asked, as calmly as she could.

"Not unless he has to"

"But Mr. Scoggins you know as well as I do that the construction of the dam as it is going along now, won't harm your land. The gates will be kept open for the very sake of the dam until it is completed. There isn't much chance of having a flood like you had here last year and if you did your oil land would be flooded anyway, wouldn't it?"

"Yeh, but he says once you get it built we can't stop you, if we're goin' to d oanything we got to do it now"

"Then what did you mean he wouldn't get out an injunction unless he had to?"

"Unless you'd agree to quit work without it"

Judith sat a few moments in silence. A crisis like this needed a man like Big Tom; not Justin Cunard, Judge Morgan nor any man she knew could handle it.

She was Big Tom's stenographer, she repeated to herself and she was going to act as she had acted in his office when things came up she couldn't handle during his absence. She would pretend he was temporarily absent.

"Mr. Scoggins, have you signed any papers?" she asked

"No Miss Judith, they was egging me on to do it, this man and Mamie, but I says no, I'm not signin' nothing"

"That's fine, Mr. Scoggins I tried to talk Big Tom into getting you to sign an agreement for our use of your land in the flood basin and he wouldn't do it. He said he would bank everything he had on your word"

"He said that?" came the pleased, incredulous question.

"Yes."

"Miss Judy, I ..I .I don't want to do this. It's just Tommy and Mamie and being able to give them things. I've got to Miss Judy. I owe it to them, that fish-scale dress and a car for Tommy—"

"I know," Judith, like Big Tom, was putting her trust in the man as she spoke, "I do understand how you feel, but I'm going to ask you to do something for Big Tom. No, not give up your oil. Mr. Bevins would never have asked you to sacrifice yourself for him, would he? And you could have depended upon him to play fair with you, always, couldn't you?"

"Yes, indeed, Miss Judith"

"Well, Mr. Scoggins, I'm acting as his secretary now and I'm going to carry out his orders, so think of yourself as dealing with him. Give me a few days to think this over. I want to explore an angle I've just thought about, and then I'll meet you and give you my decision. Is that fair?"

"Yes it is."

"And you will give me your word that you will not sign anything until after I've talked with you, nor go ahead with any of the plans this man offers?"

"Supposin' he won't wait?"

"If he's honest and there is oil on your land, he will wait?"

"Of course...yes, of course he will, won't he?"

They shook hands Scoggins started to go but Judith had motioned Delphy and the old woman appeared with a coffee pot and a frosted cake. They talked of everything excepting oil and dams and when Scoggins left he had forgotten his dogged, half-shamed manner of the earlier evening.

After he had left, Judith slipped a light sweater over her head and trudged up to the "Ship Rock." Wearily she stretched out on the rock and looked out on the plains, a blue-black bowl topped by a blue-black sky.

Was it worth the heartache and worry, this building of Diablo Dam? Surely it seemed that el diablo was at the bottom of it, something devilish seemed to dog her footsteps as she sought to carry out her instructions.

She had sacrificed her husband, her home, herself on the altar of Big Tom's ideal and for what? He had been building for the people and now they didn't want the project that had indirectly robbed him of his life.

She laughed, a broken catch in her voice as she realized it was memory of Scoggins' house being swept from its foundation in the storm, that had sent her away from Norman in the moment of her decision. And now Scoggins — she heard a noise and looked up. A huge figure was silhouetted against the milky glow of a million stars.

"Delphy," she cried, startled.

"Yassam," came the plaintive reply.

"What are you doing up here? I thought you were in bed."

"Nome."

Without words they went back to the house, Judith meekly accepting her bed-time drink and massage, which she suffered in an effort to repay Delphy for her devotion.

Morning brought Slim Sanford, and with him one of the foremost geologists of the country.

President Endorses National Brotherhood Day; Observance Here

President Roosevelt enthusiastically endorses the national Brotherhood day, to be observed in Lincoln Sunday, in a letter addressed to Dr. Robert A. Ashworth of the National Council of Jews and Christians. A copy of the letter received by Dr. Paul C. Johnston here reads.

"My Dear Dr. Ashworth: I have just learned of the proposed observance of Brotherhood Day by the National Council of Jews and Christians and I am deeply interested in its possibilities.

"This occasion presents an opportunity for concerted thinking on a vital problem of national welfare; it should help us all in our efforts to risee above ancient and harmful suspicions and prejudicies and to work together as citizens of American democracy. Good neighborliness, good citizenship and plain common sense in every day relationships are potential fruits of such a nation-wide observance"

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT."

Lincoln churches will celebrate the day on Sunday, April 29 Ministers will preach on the subject at morning services, in the evening a mass meeting is to be held at St. Paul M. E. church, addressed by Jewish and Christian speakers. Special music will be presented. The celebration is under the auspices of the Lincoln Ministerial association.

Arrasmith to Carry Legion Dues by Plane

In his personal plane, Dr. W. W. Arrasmith of Grand Island will carry Nebraska's American Legion membership cards and dues to Indianapolis May 1 as part of the legion's nation-wide aerial roundup, State Adjutant H. H. Dudley said Thursday Fred B. Winter commander of the Grand Island post, will accompany Dr Arrasmith. [illegible] planes are expected to converge on Indianapolis.

Girls Learning They Must Pay for Playing With John Dillinger

MADISON, Wis., April 26—(AP)—Those who play with John Dillinger must pay. The three pretty young women who were caught in a resort near Mercer—from which Dillinger went scot free—are finding that out. They are learning that they, like the many other associates of the gang chief who have come to grief, must pay the price.

Monotonous hours of waiting in solitary confinement in jail is their lot.

Unable to furnish bond of $50,000 each, they are held in the Dane county jail for the federal grand jury which convenes May 7. They pleaded not guilty to charges of concealing persons named in federal warrants when arraigned yesterday before U. S. Commissioner J. J McManamy.

Heavily armed officers, apprehensive of a delivery attempt, have guarded the jail constantly since the women were brought here from Eagle River, Wis., Monday night. The prisoners were lodged in separate cells and denied visitors.

The defendants gave their names as Ann Southern, Rose Anker and Mariam Marr and said they were from Chicago. The names were believed by the authorities to be fictitious

Escaped Indiana Lifer Recaptured

INDIANAPOLIS, April 26—(AP)—Willard Butler, negro life term prisoner and one of four trusties who fled from the Indiana state prison at Michigan City last Sunday, was recaptured here early today

The fugitive, who had been working as chef for the deputy warden at the prison, was arrested by police who surrounded the house where they found him asleep

Butler, 37 years old, was sentenced from Danville, Ind. in September, 1925, for the slaying of Ovie V Hartwell, negro woman with whom he had been living

Two negroes and two white men still are at large after walking away from the prison within the past few days. All were classed as trusties

You can tell by the way they treat a million dollars Americans lift their hats to it, Asiatics try to steal it. Europeans try to borrow it

WOMAN IS SHOT AFTER KIDNAPED

Abducted to Prevent Telling About Washington Gang Murder.

PHILADELPHIA, April 26—(AP)—A woman resident of Washington was shot and critically wounded in suburban Upper Darby early today, police said, after she had been kidnaped from the national capital to prevent her from telling about the gangland murder of a friend.

Police said she was Mary or Elizabeth Fontaine, 31-year-old brunette. She was found clad only in pajamas, lying on the steps of a house and screaming, "I'm dying."

Washington detectives told Darby police they believed she was seized and shot to prevent her from telling what she might know of the killing of George Phillips, an alleged gangster. Phillips was killed in a machine gun battle in Washington 10 days ago. His two companions and the woman are said to have eluded police in a wild chase through the streets of the capital.

Bloodstained Car Found.

Outside the apartment which the woman and two men had occupied police found an automobile with bloodstained cushions. Inside the house were a loaded pistol and shotgun, neither of which had been fired recently.

Investigators said Miss Fontaine told them the two men, who she refused to name, had brought her to Upper Darby two or three days after their flight from Washington.

Miss Fontaine apparently had been shot while asleep. The .38 caliber bullet which penetrated her chest passed through the mattress of her bed and was found on the floor. A trail of blood led from the room to the porch of the adjoining house where she was found.

Sloan Is Opposed To Mandatory 30 Hour Work Week

General Motors Chief Says Collective Bargaining Forward Step.

BOSTON, April 26—(AP)—Alfred P Sloan, jr., president of General Motors corporation, is not in harmony with the proposal for a mandatory 30-hour week.

He says he believes collective bargaining a step forward in American industrial life, and he also favors the proposal now before congress to place in the president's hands the authority to deal as a business man, with other countries with respect to foreign trade.

Our problem today, as he sees it, is not one of over-production, but one of grave maladjustment; he doubts that under normal circumstances it will be necessary "or desirable" to establish ways of stabilizing the price structure, and, above all, he urges support of the president "to the full extent of our ability and resources."

"I find myself entirely out of harmony with the thinking so prevalent that the hours of labor should be reduced to absorb our unemployment," he said today before a luncheon gathering at the Boston chamber of commerce.

"I am convinced that the total amount of possible productive work in the United States can be definitely expanded with a continually improving standard of living."

Paving Project In Hastings Launched

Includes Underpass For Highway at Burlington Tracks In Downtown Section of City.

HASTINGS, Neb., April 26—(AP)—Governor Bryan Wednesday evening formally started the work on a $150,000 federal highway project here, which includes construction of an underpass at the downtown Burlington railroad crossing. The project is to be financed through federal appropriation for highways through cities, and includes 1.1 miles of paving.

The governor, State Engineer Cochran and Burlington officials were guests of the Hastings chamber of commerce at a dinner later, at which good roads was the theme.

Bryan gave assurance that paving of highway No. 6 between Hastings and Exeter will be rushed as fast as funds are available. The right of way is agreed upon for the entire distance, he said. He said also that tentative plans have been made for an overpass to eliminate highway 281 crossing the Union Pacific railroad tracks on the north side of Hastings.

Crete Creamery Employes At Birthday Celebration

CRETE, Neb. — Fifty years of dairying in Nebraska with the Fairmont Creamery company was celebrated Thursday evening with a banquet, dance and addresses at St. James hall, given by the company for the local employes their wives and distinguished guests. The creamery colors of red and yellow were used in decorating. Under an improvised ceilling of red and yellow streamers, were aranged tables with covers for 300. A huge birthday cake, made by Mrs. Earl Houderscheldt, an employe, centered the speakers' table, while red and white carnations were the floral appointments used.

G. E. Darrington was master of ceremonies. M. D. Osterhout, manager of the Crete plant, gave the address of welcome and introduced the veteran employes who including himself had served over 35 years. John Hanzel, with a record of thirty-nine years, had served the longest. The Fairmont male quartet, composed of Loren Brolliar Joe Marenek P. L. Munro and W. A. Madore, accompanied at the piano by Miss Mildred During, sang a group of songs.

O. R. Wilson, Omaha, Fairmont secretary-treasurer, told of "Fairmont Through Its First Fifty Years." F. F. Waechter, vice president, Omaha discussed, "Facing the Next Fifty Years" and M. S. Hartman, Omaha legal adviser, responded to "Government and Business" M. D. Osterhout was then presented with a large basket of roses by the employes. An evening of dancing followed with the Doane college orchestra playing. Distinguished guests included officials, managers, department managers and their wives.

Miller told of the history of Arbor day and of Arbor Lodge. "Famous Trees of History" was the topic discussed by Mrs. G. A. Gregory. The club is sponsoring a zinnia planting contest and flower show with Mrs. Anton Dredla as chairman.

The junior day program of the Crete Music club was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thomas Dredla, with Miss Mary Craig in charge of the program. The juniors, in costume presented "How Mozart Went to Court" by Lorna Stirling under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Aron. Price May took the part of Mozart and Beth Knight that of his sister, Nannerl. Refreshments were served by Mesdames Dredla, Will Norton and Edward C. Plouzek.

Mrs. Estel Spadt was hostess Friday afternoon to the Priscilla club. Current events were given in response to roll call after which Mrs. Edward C. Johnson had charge of the lesson," Air Minded America." Seasonal flowers decorated the table for dinner served at the close of the meeting.

Entertains Star Club.

Mrs. Joe Kulhanek entertained the Star club Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. J. Bouska. Verlee Bouska, accompanied by Harriet Bouska, played a clarinet solo and the two girls sang a group of songs, in addition to the readings given by club members. A covered dish supper was served. Guests were Mrs. Anna Crumm, Colorado Springs, Mrs. Jake Wild and Mrs. Roy Woodard and daughter.

Mrs. M. O. Smith had as her guests Thursday afternoon the Social Twelve club and Mrs. Nell Winn of Wood River. A roundtable discussion of current topics preceded the serving of luncheon. A primrose centered the table with service for twelve.

The T. M. S. club met Thursday evening for bridge and luncheon at the home of Mrs. Fred Kulhanek, with Miss Elsie Kucera winning high award, Miss Arline Nespory the guest prize and Mrs. Charles Rhynalds, jr., the guest award. Japanese quince were the floral appointments used.

The Columbian club motored to Lincoln, where members were luncheon guests of Mrs. E. G. Campbell with Mesdames Carrie Gwinn, Laura Ireland, and William Schultz, assisting. Club guests were Mrs. Joe West, Lincoln, Mrs. Henry Eichelberger and Mrs. Clinton DeWitt.

Improvement Club.

Mesdames M. C. Brannon and Ed. F. Aron entertained at luncheon Thursday for the Mutual Improvement club and one guest, Mrs. J. G. Hartwell of Lusit Wyo. A bouquet of sweet peas formed the centerpiece. Mrs. Della Buck read," Century of Progress," by Robert Lovett and "Tribute," by Harry Kniffin, after which Mrs. M. R. Byrnes told of "Appreciation in the Art of Painting."

Bridge guests of Mrs. C. P. May, Friday afternoon were the members of the Idyll Hour club. Mrs. Frank Bahner scored high and Mrs. Frank Farley second high. Red and gold tulips were used in decorating the table for the two course luncheon served.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lockard and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Maltby of Seward left Sunday for a weeks stay in Kansas City.

Dead Doctor Heals Stomach Ailments

A weird story is told of a well-known specialist reaching from the grave to curb stomach suffering. Years ago this doctor created a prescription for stomach ulcers, acid stomach, gas pains, heartburn, indigestion, bloating, belching, and other symptoms when caused by excess acid. Then the good doctor died. But his name brought fame after death as one user told another of his wonderful prescription. In the past six years, 54,189 grateful persons have written letters telling of their recoveries. This prescription is now known to hundreds of thousands as the Udga Treatment. All stomach sufferers may have a free sample by writing to Udga, Suite 66, Foot-Schulte Bldg., St. Paul, Minn. The seven-day trial box of Udga Tablets is sold under a money-back guarantee of satisfaction by Harley Drug Co., Fenton Drug Co., The Owl Pharmacy.

Overseer Wilbur Glenn Voliva sponsored that announcement. Smokers have been arrested in Zion.

Gallagher Confident 1-House Legislature To Get Petition Quota

Confidence that 55,700 signatures required to put the Norris one-house legislature amendment on the ballot would be secured long before July 6, the deadline, was expressed Thursday by Don Gallagher. Gallagher, who is secretary-treasurer of the campaign executive committee, said organizations have been set up in 87 counties.

Gallagher said that the remaining six counties would be organized before next week.

No definite estimate of the total of signatures received to date is available because county chairmen have been instructed to hold all petitions until they reach their quotas.

Revolution? Leave Out the R

So Floats the Macon

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

President Roosevelt knows how to put "what people want to hear in few words. He says they want "evolution," and don't want "revolution." That word has one letter too many. The president thinks we need to "use gray matter," whether "brain trust" or otherwise. In other words, we need to think.

We do need to think, and we might start with this:

Is it wise to discourage efficiency by bribing farmers to keep down production and taxing consumers? Could we not apply part of our gray matter to the problem of distribution? Instead of concentrating on restriction. Would not the angels, looking down "with eternal lids apart," prefer to see superfluous little pigs, cotton and wheat, divided among the hungry and naked of the world, somehow, even by subsidizing "dumping," rather than see the cotton plowed under, the wheat not planted, and little pigs unborn thrown into the cold Mississippi?

The big airship Macon floats in Florida sunshine, moored to a slender steel mast at Opalocka, Miami suburb. Crowds visiting the giant silver ship wonder that the slight mooring mast can hold it. But the ship is always pointed into the wind, and its streamline, fish-like shape offers little resistance. The mast, sunk deep is braced all around by heavy steel cables, stretched out in all directions, fastened to heavy blocks of reinforced concrete.

The giant airship is a "marsupial" wide open underneath, with an arrangement for taking in and dropping out swift pursuit planes. The ship needs them for swift distant observation and for her own defense against the enemy. One fair hit from a bomb or explosive shell, and there would be no more Macon.

John Dillinger continues his adventures. Citizens report having seen him within 24 hours in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois. Few men have been in so many places at once.

However, to save Dillinger from the sin of vanity it should be mentioned that there is nothing wonderful about escaping the clutches and poor marksmanship of 5,000 or more officers of the law for a week or two. In Corsica, the island that produced Napoleon, Dillinger would learn about bandits that committed crimes and roamed the hills in freedom for long years, with not only police, but soldiers hunting for them.

Corsican and other European bandits often made themselves popular by taking from the rich and dividing with the poor. It is too late for Dillinger to borrow that idea, United States government tax-collectors having borrowed it already.

According to the Associated Press, Japanese newspapers are amused by "the American fleet's failure" to take one hundred and eleven warships through the Panama canal in 24 hours. It did, as a matter of fact, take about 48 hours to get all the ships through, but even that is a considerable improvement on going around the horn.

By the way, this trip reminds you of the fact that the United States built the Panama canal, paid for it, and allows ships of other nations to use the canal on exactly the same terms as American shipping. Changing that arrangement might cause same of our foreign friends to contribute something on bad war debts that represent their welching.

Larger Air Mail Network Planned

Service May Cost Only About Half of Authorized 14 Millions.

WASHINGTON, April 26—(AP)—Postal officials planned today the creation of an air mail network larger than that which spread-eagled the nation prior to the cancellation of previous contracts—but at about half the authorized cost.

Bids for 21 routes now are under consideration and proposals for four additional runs are to be received today. Specifications for seven or eight more will be published within ten days.

Official figures disclosed the total route mileage for this service will be 26,429. This would compare with the 25,248-mile web that disintegrated with Postmaster General Farley's annulment of contracts. The army, since its resumption of service March 19, has flown a 7,457-mileage route.

Cost May Be Cut In Half.

Money authorized for the air mail service for the current fiscal year is $14,000,000. Based on the average of the bids submitted on April 20, officials calculated today the total annual cost for the contemplated system might be as low as $7,720,103.

Farley disclosed, however, that three high bidders so far have questioned the physical equipment of the low bidders.

He indicated that should the low bidder in any instance be found irresponsible there would be a resolicitation of proposals in order to forestall any charge of favoritism.

Saw Desperado Son

John W. Dillinger of Mooresville, Ind., 69-year-old father of the nation's most sought outlaw, is shown inspecting a petition seeking amnesty for his son. The elder Dillinger, who said his son recently attended a family reunion at Mooresville, opined young John would "make a good policeman."—(AP photo.)

Lt. Beals Entertains Lost 3-Year-Old Girl Until Father Arrives

Little Patricia Conners, 3-year-old, developed a fondness for Lt. Elmer Beals and a love for the stick candy that he gave her Wednesday afternoon, but her only thoughts were, "Let's go to mama."

Patricia wandered away from her home at 925 Washington street early in the afternoon, and stopped to play near Seventeenth and N street, where Mrs. Veda Simmons entertained her for a while—while trying to find her parents.

Lt. Beals was then notified, and came to the aid of the bashful little miss. They went for a "big ride" in a cruiser car, and went candy shopping, but Patricia wasn't able to tell where she lived.

At headquarters the little sightseer would make friends with no one—preferring her candy and Lt. Beals. Her only words at intervals as she tugged at his hands, were, "Let's go to mama."

In the meantime her parents had scoured the neighborhood, and then called headquarters—where she was expecting the call. Instead of her mama, her daddy, John Conners, came for her—and found her waiting with open arms—and with the candy.

CRITICAL DROUTH SITUATION SHOWN

Only Three Nebraska Weather Stations Report Over Trace of Moisture in Past Week.

Only three points in Nebraska reported more than a trace of moisture during the week ending April 24, according to the weather bureau.

"Wheat is now generally in very good condition but progress was poor during the past week, and the need of rain is becoming critical," the summary says, after stating that the condition of winter wheat which appeared doubtful in March, and had improved rapidly in April, when the acreage abenoned was less than usual.

The seeding of oats and spring wheat is nearing completion, but germination in most places is slow, and pastures and other vegetation are making rather slow growth, because of the lack of moisture. Plowing of corn land is well under way, and beet planting has started.

April temperatures have been moderate, but with rather cold nights and frequent freezes. The extreme western and extreme southern portions of the state were the only places to receive moderate rains during the first half of the month, while high winds and low humidities have dried the soil, and subsoil moisture is efficient.

Points reporting moisture for the week are, Albion, Blair, Clay Center, Franklin, Lincoln, Norfolk, North Platte, Omaha and York, traces: and Gothenburg, .07 inch; Madrid, .14; and Sioux City, .32.

Lewellyn Halderson Elected President Of Nu-Meds Society

Lewellyn Halderson of Newman Grove was named president of the Nu-Meds, pre-medic organization at the University of Nebraska, at the annual meeting at the Lindell hotel Wednesday evening. He succeeds Ivan Stearns of Beaver City. James Harris of Lincoln was elected vice president and L. C. Straugh of Beatrice was named secretary-treasurer.

Eight members were tapped for membership in Theta Nu, honorary pre-medic fraternity.

Dr. H. W. Manter showed the slides taken on his recent study cruise to the Galapagos islands, including interesting views of animal life, inhabitants and topography. Dr. John S. Latta, of the college of medicine at Omaha, spoke to the hundred students on "A Defense for Education."

Those initiated into Theta Nu are: Lewellyn Halderson, Newman Grove. Albert Luckey, Columbus, Deloss Loudon, Clarinda, Ia.; Robert Warnke, Milford. Clarence Brott, Jansen; Frank Mossman, Omaha, and Harry Beckwith, Beatrice.

Ivan Sterns, the retiring Nu Med president, presided, introduced a number of medical students from Omaha as special guests.

This year marks the 200th anniversary of the migration of Lutheran exiles from Salzburg, Austria, to Oglethorpe's Georgia province.

Prevention Of War Is Farm and Labor Hope, Says Harris

"If the workers and the farmers ever hope to possess anything, they have got to combine to prevent the next war," Paul Harris, jr., pacifist lecturer, told about 125 employed and unemployed men in the Labor temple Wednesday night. Fred Herman was chairman.

"If this nation, or any other nation, takes part in another war," Harris stated, "then that nation is doomed to become fascist immediately. Fascism and war will run hand in hand."

"But it's our job to prevent that from happening," he continued. "We've got to hold off or prevent the next war. The best means open today is through political action—let every true pacifist get into his political caucuses and make himself heard. We've got to be a voting influence or nothing will come of our resistance."

The Labor temple talk closed Harris' two-day stay in Lincoln. In addition to the many talks given in downtown places and schools, he conferred at length Wednesday afternoon with the local leaders of the Nebraska Committee on Peace Action.

"Friends And Romans" Title Of New Novel

Virginia Faulkner's Book Is Story of Intrigue in Italy.

PERHAPS because Miss Virginia Faulkner is without question Lincoln's youngest author, because already, even though only twenty-one years of age, she has accomplished certain ambitions and done exciting things, people have a natural curiosity concerning her first book which is to be published in July. We are presenting to you the publisher's information, just as it will appear on the jacket of the book:

In the first place the title has been changed from "Written to Sell," to "Friends and Romans." The blurb is as follows:

"Notice to readers: This is NOT the great American novel.

"When Marie Manfred, the world's greatest pianist, arrived in Italy for a holiday she was pretty fed up with gentlemen and pianos, and cared not a whit whether she ever struck a responsive note from either. But almost before you could say 'Benito Mussolini,' Marie found herself not only bearing the brunt of a grand passion but involved in the affairs of the Fascist party and an English virgin.

"Her days and nights were disturbed by two intrusions. One was a biography, GAUDY CALLIOPE, written by a former lover, which purported to give the "complete picture of a woman of whom it may be said that although many know her intimately few know her well." The other was Ricardo dei Retti, one of Mussolini's many left hands, a gorgeous Italian who deluded himself on the grand scale—and felt that though life held few surprises for him, he had some for it.

"It took an attempted assassination, a far-too-witty American, a funeral, a goat, and an organization of Italian war veterans to solve Marie's difficulties for her, and to force her to the point where she had to choose between her two necessities, audiences and lovers.

"FRIENDS AND ROMANS is civilized entertainment and nothing more. But books as delightful, as carefree, and as charmingly wanton, are rare. It is a witty social comedy which does not disdain the absurdities of farce. The author is twenty-one and apparently has none of the seriousness with which youth customarily greets la vie. If any fault can be found with her Roman patillant, it only can be that the characters talk far more amusingly than is quite natural, and far more audaciously than is quite proper."

AND THERE you have a brief outline of Virginia Faulkner's book.

SAMMIE INSULL still rates with Mary McCormic, according to that opera star's recent statement in Paris. Miss McCormic was asked to list the ten best men in her wide acquaintance. Her list was notable for the exclusion of Prince Mdivani, her latest divorced husband.

At the top of the list was Samuel Insull about whom Mary McCormic made the following statement.

"Sammie Insull is the finest, most unselfish, most understanding, and the kindest man I ever have known, and he has done the most good."

Of course Mary Garden has just the opposite opinion of Mr. Insull, but perhaps the two opera stars may never meet.

PAUL SCHLIFE PRESENTS SENIOR VOICE RECITAL.

An appreciative audience heard Paul Schlife, voice student with Clemens Movius, present his senior recital Wednesday at the Temple theater. Singing "God, My Father," from "The Seven Last Words," by Dubois, Mr. Schlife gave greatest evidence of his ability of interpretation. Vigorous applause also followed his rendition of the prologue from "Pagliacci."

Equally interesting as the vocal program, were violin selections played by Thomas McManus, young student with Carl Steckelberg. Promise of considerable talent was given in the rather difficult "Kol Nedri" by Bruch. Both students evinced splendid musicianship.

The program:

"God, My Father," from "The Seven Last Words," Dubois; "Du bist die Ruh," "Fruhlingsglaube," "Erlkonig," Schubert; Mr. Schlife.

"Kol Nedri," Bruch; Mr. McManus

"Sapphic Ode," "My Love is as Fair," Brahms; "Prologue," from "Pagliacci," Leoncavallo; Mr. Schlife.

"Cradle Song," Brahms-Spalding; "Old Vienne," Godowsky; Mr McManus.

I Ate What I Liked . . . Fat Slipped Away

It was so easy—I did not go on a diet. I took no exercise. I did not weaken my body with drastic purgatives. Yet fat slipped away. Each day I felt myself growing lighter, more slender. Now my figure is lovely, graceful. And I never felt better in my life.

That, in brief, is what thousands who have reduced the Marmola way might well tell you. Four times a day they take a little tablet containing the right quantity of a world-famous corrective for abnormal obesity.—A corrective prescribed by physicians everywhere and acknowledged to be the most effective known.

Since 1907, more than 20 million packages of Marmola have been purchased. Could any better recommendation be had?

Today—buy a package of Marmola, and start at once. Soon you will experience Marmola's benefits. When you have gone far enough, stop taking Marmola. And you will bless the day you first discovered this marvelous reducing agent!

Marmola is on sale by dealers everywhere—from coast to coast.

Augustana Lutheran Conference Begins Sessions; Many Instructors To Gather At Crete Friday

CHURCH LEADER TELLS OF NEEDS

Dr. C. C. Gulleen Says Christian College Facing Crisis.

WAKEFIELD, Neb., April 26—(AP)—A challenge to the "church of God to proclaim its message of life, hope and salvation to a languishing and disrupted world," was issued today by Dr. C. C. Gulleen, of Fremont, state president, in his report to pastors and delegates of the Nebraska Augustana Lutheran conference in convention here.

This challenge, he said, must be met by the church in overcoming spiritual indifference, awakening to the need to "prevent repeal of state prohibition," improving its educational program and providing better teaching facilities to keep youth in the church after they reach adulthood, furthering evangelistic work with the entire membership "seeking to bring others to Christ," and continuing adequate support for home missions.

"If attendance at morning services, reported by pastors in the state, is a criterion," Dr. Gulleen said, "there seems to be common testimony that the word of God has not lost its power.

Hope is seen for the future by the church leader in promotion of spiritual interests now being undertaken by Luther leagues in Nebraska, through Bible studies and in prayer circles.

Education Is Problem.

Pointing to Christian education as the church's most urgent problem, Dr. Gulleen said this has been intensified because "the home of today has to a large degree delegated religious training to outside agencies, which is a mistake and has in a great measure destroyed the powerful influences of the home."

'Christian colleges are today facing a crisis whose outcome will determine whether we shall be able to preserve our Christian heritage or secularism and anti-Christian forces shall close the doors of the Christian schools," the president asserted.

The convention, opened last night, will continue through Sunday. Business sessions will be held Friday and Saturday. The question of selecting a president of Luther college will come up Saturday morning after devotions by the Rev. A. Thoren of Hooper.

A state Lutheran brotherhood business session will be held Saturday afternoon, with Carl O. Lof, Omaha, president, in charge and devotions by the Rev. H. C. Alden, Omaha. Discussion of "How We Can Preserve and Increase Our Church Membership," will be led by B. Thornblad, Oakland.

Save all meat and vegetable stock and use it in soups, gravies, stews and sauces.

Unforgetting Man

Meet a unique brand of European statesman! Col. Josiah Wedgewood, British laborite, who deplored failure of British budget for 1934 to make provision for payment of debts to the United States. He asserts "we should pay what we owe to the people who lent us money when we were in a difficult position."

For Backache, Kidney And Bladder Trouble

Stop Getting Up Nights

Here's one good way to flush harmful waste from kidneys and stop bladder irritation that often causes scanty, burning and smarting passage. Ask your druggist for a 35-cent box of Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules—a splendid diuretic and stimulant for weak kidneys and irritated bladder. Besides getting up nights, some symptoms of kidney trouble are backaches, puffy eyes, leg cramps, and moist palms, but be sure to get GOLD MEDAL—it's the genuine medicine for weak kidneys.

NOTE: Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules assist the kidneys to expel from the system that harmful excess uric acid which is often the aggravation of joint pains, sciatica, neuritis, neuralgia and lumbago.—Adv.

APPLE CROP IS BADLY DAMAGED

Loss As Great As 90 Per Cent On Lowland Orchards.

FALLS CITY, Neb., April 26—(AP)—Richardson county's apple crop was reduced thousands of bushels by the belated frost which descended on the heart of the Nebraska fruit belt early Wednesday, prominent fruit growers estimate.

J. F. Shubert, Guy Shubert and Dearle Baker, who own large orchards in this section, reported that 90 per cent of the apples in the lowlands were completely destroyed. The three made two checks, one early Wednesday and another before evening.

"Although we discovered that the loss will be about 90 per cent in the lowlands," Baker declared, "it is as yet impossible to determine the loss on the hill ground, where most of the trees are located."

It requires from two to three days after a heavy frost, Baker said, to be able to ascertain accurately the damage to apples. He said by Friday the extent of the loss in this section would be pretty well known.

The damage occurred when the mercury dipped to 24 degrees, the lowest mark of the cold wave which hung over the fruit belt for several days, on many occasions dropping below the freezing point.

It also occurred shortly after the prediction was made that Richardson county probably would produce between 200,000 and 250,000 bushels of apples this season, which would be a record yield.

North Bend Rejoices When Bank Is Opened

People Make Merry In Town Which Had Been Without Banking Facilities Over Year.

NORTH BEND, Neb., April 25—(AP)—North Bend Wednesday, put business cares aside to celebrate the formal opening of the Platte Valley bank. The town had been without a bank since February of last year. Stores were closed Wednesday, there was a free baseball game and a dance, and flowers, cigars and candy were given away. The bank, capitalized at $25,000, is headed by Richard McCluhan.

New Burwell Bank.

BURWELL, Neb., April 26—(AP)—The Bank of Burwell opened for business this morning with $25,000 capital and $5,000 surplus, all paid. Frank A. Johnson is president of the bank. He has been connected with the hardware and lumber business for 30 years. His sons, Harold, Osce, and Everett, are the other officers.

Burwell has been without a bank since last January 13, when both banks here were closed by the state banking department.

TERRY CARPENTER LOSES FRANCHISE

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb., April 26—(AP)—The city council has cancelled Congressman Terry Carpenter's franchise for construction of an electric light plant and distribution system here. The cancelling resolution said Carpenter had failed to comply with its term by not constructing the system within a year after April 18, 1933. The franchise was granted by direct vote of the people at a heated election here.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY.

(Special to The Star.)

DEWITT, Neb., April 26—The senior high school class here will produce "A Sweeping Victory" in the opera house Friday evening.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., April 26—The following marriage licenses were issued here: Edward E. Nickels, 23, and Dorothy Randall, 22, both of Beatrice; Gerd A. Henrichs, jr., 24, Diller, and Stella Wasserman, 17, Steele City.

Hastings To Boost Pay For Employes

Policemen and Firemen To Be Raised $15 Month Each, Increase to Begin May 1.

HASTINGS, Neb., April 26—(AP)—Things are on the upgrade again for Hastings' home guardians — the policemen and the firemen. The city council has raised their pay effective May 1.

Patrolmen and regular firemen were given a raise of $15 a month to $95, plus the usual $5 clothing allowance. Chiefs of the two departments also were raised $15 a month to $105, plus clothing allowances. The raises increased the cost of the departments $3,900 a year.

Reverse at Holdrege.

HOLDREGE, Neb., April 26—(AP)—The new city council unanimously approved reductions in salaries of city employes to effect a saving of $1,680 as almost its first official act. The positions of day police and sewer commissioner were combined as were the water and lights department heads. The street commissioner, park carctaker and dump caretaker were named special police without extra salary.

FARMER ENDS HIS LIFE BY SHOOTING

PIERCE, Neb., April 26—(AP)—Fred Reimers, 48, prominent farmer eleven miles west of here, took his own life last night by shooting himself with a shotgun while in the dining room of his home. The family had retired and Mrs. Reimers and two sons, awakened by the shot, found the body. Reimers owned his farm but had had financial troubles which are believed to have caused his act. He is survived by his widow, three sons and several brothers and sisters.

SOON TO BEGIN ON SUTHERLAND

Consulting Engineers Arrive to Inspect Construction Plans.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., April 26—(AP)—John P. Hogan, member of a New York firm of consulting engineers, arrived here Wednesday to inspect plans for the $7,500,000 Sutherland power and irrigation project, preliminary to the letting of contracts for construction. His arrival was accompanied by an announcement that the federal PWA has approved of the selection of his firm as consultants in the development of the project. The firm name is Parsons, Clapp, Brinkerhoff and Douglas.

E. E. Halmos, another representative of the firm, was expected to arrive here Thursday. Halmos will remain here most of the time required for construction of the project, Hogan said. Hogan will leave North Platte Friday, but will return occasionally to consult engineers employed by the Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation district, the organization sponsoring the project.

Only a few thousand acre feet of water remain to be sold before the district meets the PWA requirement that 100,000 acre feet be contracted for before bonds may be issued to finance the project. Farmers served by an irrigation canal operated by the Gothenburg Light and Power company are expected to contract for from 8,000 to 10,000 acre feet within a few days, which would complete sale of the 100,000 feet.

ENDERS LODGE BURNS.

AINSWORTH, Neb., April 25—(AP)—Enders lake lodge, about 30 miles south of here, was destroyed by fire last week. Four buildings were burned, the lodge, a dance pavilion, an icehouse and a garage as well as all the personal belongings of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Enders who conducted the store and lodge. Enders plans to restock and continue in business, using some cabins for temporary headquarters.

SCIENTISTS TO MEET AT DOANE

Diversified Program Prepared For Friday and Saturday.

(Special to The Star.)

CRETE, Neb., April 26 — About 300 are expected here Friday to attend the forty-fourth meeting of the Nebraska Academy of Sciences, which is to be held on the Doane campus in conjunction with the Nebraska section of the Mathematical Association of America, the Nebraska Council of Geography Teachers and the Nebraska Dietetic association. Dr. E. R. Wightman of Doane is president, Dr. N. A. Bengston, Lincoln, is vice president, and M. P. Brunig of Lincoln, secretary.

HOLD CLINIC FOR PUPILS AT HALLAM

(Special to The Star.)

HALLAM, Neb., April 26 —Eight children were given a complete physical examination in the free school clinic conducted at Hallam Wednesday. It is the second of a series of six to be conducted in the county and is a P. T. A. county council activity. The Lincoln and Lancaster County Tuberculosis association and the American Red Cross are sponsoring the clinics. Dr. C. R. Spradling of Hallam was examining physician and Dr. Paul L. Deines, Lincoln, examining dentist. Mrs. Kittee Cosandier, R. N., field nurse for the tuberculosis association was supervising nurse, assisted by the following FERA registered nurses; Harriet Patterson, Kate Graham, Luella Erion and Elizabeth Rownd. Mrs. V. J. Kovarik was chairman at Hallam for arrangements. The next clinic will be held at Raymond, Friday.

Three more of the clinics will be held next week. Monday the examiners will be at Bethlehem church, Wednesday at Hickman and Friday at the Lincoln health department. Only rural children are examined in these clinics.

A similar clinic was held at Bennet Monday when six children were examined. Dr. Joe Cameron and Dr. R. L. Tuleen were the examiners.

Prison Terms For Carrying Weapons

O'NEILL, Neb., April 26—(AP)—District Judge R. R. Dickson has sentenced John Lampit, 30, and Elliott D. Moore, 30, to one year each in the penitentiary. They pleaded guilty to charges of carrying concealed weapons. The men were arrested at Atkinson April 14 by Sheriff Duffy after they tried to pass a check. Lampit was released from the penitentiary last December, after serving a sentence for forgery.

Motorist Is Found Dead In His Auto

TARNOV, Neb., April 26—(AP)—Joseph Mostek, 44, bachelor farmer north of here, was found dead Wednesday in his automobile, which had stopped in a ditch a mile of Tarnov. The death was ascribed to heart disease. Mostek had suffered considerably from asthma in recent years. It was thought that he was stricken while driving home after spending last evening in Tarnov, and that the car coasted into the ditch. The car did not overturn.

BLAZE AT WYMORE.

(Special to The Star.)

WYMORE, Neb., April 26 — Fire starting in the attic at the John Lang residence here Tuesday afternoon, caused damage estimated at more than $1,500. The roof was badly burned and the bedding and contents of the rooms of the upper floor were ruined. It is supposed that the fire started from an overheated or defective flue. The loss is covered by insurance.

(Special to The Star.)

AURORA, Neb., April 26—At the first meeting of the newly elected council and mayor this week, the mayor, Frank E. Quinn, announced the appointment of Orville Dunham as night marshal, Charles Ludlow as cemetery trustee, John Quinn as water commissioner, with Harvey Grosvenor as assistant. In executive session the council refused confirmation of all of the appointees with the exception of John Quinn. No further action has been taken.

EXPECT SAXTON TO LAND PLACE

Omahans Believe He Is To Succeed Sandall As U. S. Attorney.

OMAHA, April 26—(AP)—Appointment of Howard Saxton of Omaha as United States district attorney for Nebraska was looked upon as a certainty here when it was learned from an authoritive source that Democratic National Committeeman Keith Neville of North Platte would not offer any objection to the appointment.

It was also stated that J. J. Thomas, democratic state chairman, and Mrs. C. G. Ryan, national committeewoman, who might possibly block appointment of Saxton by their objection, had not come out for any other candidate. Saxton has the support of Governor Bryan and is believed to be favored by Senator Thompson.

The term of C. E. Sandall, present district attorney, expired on April 23. Sandall will continue in office until his successor is named.

Asthma Disappears

Springfield woman writes interesting letter

A year after first taking Dr. Fugate's Prescription, Mrs. Lucy Harvey of Springfield, Illinois, wrote:

"I am still feeling fine. I had Asthma for 25 years and had used all kinds of medicine and doctored with doctors, but nothing helped me as much as your medicine. All winter I felt fine. I sleep all night, and go out in the cold any time I want to, and it don't hurt me. I do all my own work. I get up in the morning singing, where I used to get up coughing. Dr. Fugate's Prescription is the best asthma medicine I ever got hold of. It is worth its weight in gold. —Mrs. Lucy Harvey."

Six years later she again wrote she was still feeling fine. If you suffer from Bronchial Asthma try the prescription which has brought relief to thousands of sufferers.

TWO AERODYNAMIC MASTERPIECES OF 1934

Could vehicles talk, this meeting of the Union Pacific's new 110-mile-an-hour train and a new skyway style Studebaker would undoubtedly sound like a session of a mutual admiration society.

ALMOST every other car on the market is selling at substantially higher prices today than last year.

But Studebaker prices are $155 to $620 lower! And the new 1934 Studebakers are finer cars in every way than the finest that Studebaker offered in former years.

They're magnificently streamlined. Built like battleships—of seamless steel reinforced by steel. They're so roomy that six grown-ups are easily accommodated in the sedans.

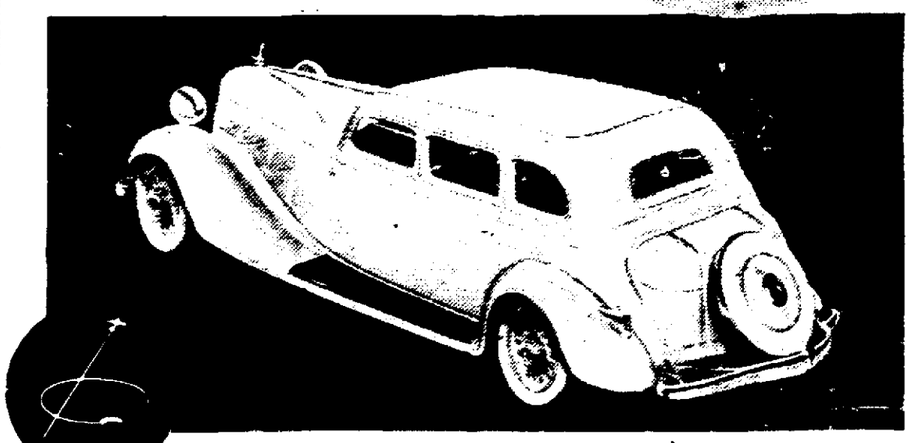

Studebaker's own million-dollar development, Quadripoise Suspension, cradles the action of all four wheels at all speeds and on all roads.

See and drive one of these finest of all Studebakers and you'll understand why Studebaker sales are at the high point of years and constantly increasing!

HOW'S THIS FOR ECONOMY?

Checked by Western Union officials at start, en route, and at finish, the Studebaker Dictator pictured covered 26 miles at a 39-mile per hour average speed. Only one gallon of gasoline was given car at outset of trip.

SUNNY SUNDAYS.. RAINY MONDAYS.. YOUR MOTOR PURRS WITH ALL-WEATHER MOBILGAS!

SOME people don't realize that an automobile engine is very sensitive to Spring's sudden changes of weather.

These changes cannot affect your car if you're using Mobilgas with Climatic Control.

Climatic Control means your gasoline has been specially preadjusted at the refinery to take care of any and all weather conditions, rain or shine, hot or cold—at high altitude or low. Your engine will run at its best all of the time instead of some of the time.

If you're not a regular Mobilgas motorist, there never was a better time than right now to put Climatic Control to the test.

Use Mobilgas regularly for the next few changeable weeks and notice the difference. More pep—more power—more fun!

You don't have to hunt for Mobilgas. You see these pumps everywhere. White Eagle Oil Corporation—a Socony-Vacuum company.

BEET SITUATION IS NOT CHANGED

Growers and Processors Still Deadlocked On Terms.

DENVER, April 26—(AP)—S. K. Warrick, Scottsbluff, president of the Non-stock Co-operative Beet Growers association of Nebraska, has reiterated the position of his association members on a 1934 sugar beet growers contract.

He said most of the acreage in his association's territory in western Nebraska is signed on an agreement which pledges the grower not to grow any sugar beets in the season of 1934 unless he grows them on a 50-50 percentage division contract.

He further stated the Great Western Sugar company is in position to issue a percentage contract which gives a fair division of the products from a ton of sugar beets as shown by the company's earnings on the 1932 sugar beet crop and its financial statement of Feb. 28, 1934.

He said the future of beet sugar looks much brighter under the stabilizing influences of the Jones-Costigan sugar bill if and when it becomes a law.

Warrick declared he considers the stand taken by the Great Western Sugar company relative to supplying beet seed to its growers in the season of 1934 a very arbitrary position and not conducive to the creation of good will among its growers or the business public.

COUNTY'S DEBTS NOT ASSESSABLE

Attorney General Says Money of Public Employes Not Taxable.

No person, corporation, or business firm which on April 1, last, held an unpaid claim against the state of Nebraska or any of its local governmental subdivisions is legally liable for payment of any tax thereon, under a ruling made by Attorney General Good in reply to an inquiry from County Assessor Sam Greenleaf of Douglas county, propounded through the state tax commissioner's office.

The opinion bears directly upon salaries and wages of Douglas county officials and employes, which were held up for a month or two prior to April 1, because no money was on hand to pay them, and for which warrants have been issued since that date.

It applies, however, to claims of every sort against the state and its cities, villages, counties, school districts, and other local units of administration. The attorney general draws no distinction between a claim for $50 or $100 salary due an official or employe and one for $50,000 or $100,000 which a mercantile firm or a contractor might have coming to him for goods or materials furnished or work done on a public project.

Pointing out that bonds and warrants of the state and its subdivisions are exempt from taxation under the constitution of Nebraska, Good declares that "claims against a county are as much instrumentalities of government before warrants have been issued as afterward.

Lists Own Salary.

County Assessor Greenleaf had listed $835 of his own overdue compensation for taxes, along with amounts owing by Douglas county to several hundred people on its payroll who were in the unfortunate position of having to wait a long time for the money that should have been paid them in February and March. He wrote to State Tax Commissioner Smith to ask whether this was in accordance with the state tax law's requirements, and the latter referred the matter to Attorney General Good.

While the legal department's opinion lets everybody having uncollected accounts with public agencies out of paying tax on them, it does not relieve private creditors or employes in any degree. Any such person who sees fit to report money owing them for labor, merchandise, or services of any kind under the heading of "accounts due," will be "soaked" the regular tax rate on whatever uncollected sum is due, regardless of whether he ever gets it or not.

Because of this manifest injustice between public and private creditors, and the further gross discrimination which the new tax law makes between persons having money on hand and those who have not yet received it (a difference of as much as 500 to 800 per cent in the same locality, in some instances), it is generally expected that few people will report their "accounts due" to the assessor, and that feature of the law will become a dead letter, unenforceable because of its confiscatory character.

CO-ED STRUCK BY TRUCK.

Jean Doty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Doty, 2627 Everett street, escaped with but minor bruises when she was knocked to the pavement by a truck and thrown under a parked car near Fourteenth and R streets late Wednesday afternoon. Miss Doty, a freshman in the college of business administration of the University of Nebraska, was attending classes Thursday morning.

Corn Loan Inspections Pass 40,000 In State

With four more days left of the federal corn loan program, loan applications received by the state railway commission since the program was started topped the 40,000 mark with approximately 250 received Thursday.

James F. Miller, commission secretary, said the loans on the 40,000 applications will total approximately $25,000,000 on more than 50,000 bushels of corn.

GRID EMPHASIS PROPER—BIBLE

Husker Coach Declares Receipts Pay For Other Sports.

Football in universities and college is over-emphasized, to a certain extent, and it should be, D. X. Bible head coach at the University of Nebraska, declared in an address at the meeting of the Lions club Thursday noon at the chamber of commerce. "Without the receipts from football," Coach Bible said, "it would be impossible to carry on the well-rounded program of athletics contemplated for every student."

Track Coach Henry F. Schulte, also was a speaker at the meeting. He reviewed the breaking of world's records during recent years. Twenty years ago it was believed that many records of that time would never be broken, he declared. With the development of the competitive spirit, however, virtually all of them have been displaced, "and we no longer feel that when a new mark is established that it is likely to stand for years."

According to Coach Bible, much of the criticism that has come from the Carnegie folundation has been the result of a lack of knowledge as to the facts, and should not be given much credence.

The Cornhuskers will be a fast team this fall, the coach said. "Although the experienced players of last year will be missing, the team will go a long way as the spirit is there. The boys have the will to do," Bible declared.

The annual jungle breakfast of the Lions club will be held next Thursday morning at the scout cabins in Electric park.

Wesleyan Students To Present "The Mikado"

Prof. Oscar Bennett To Take Lead Comic Role In Gilbert And Sullivan Operetta.

"The Mikado," a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, will be presented in the Wesleyan auditorium, Friday and Saturday evening, April 27 and 28, under the direction of Prof. Oscar Bennett of the school of music. It is the first operetta to be produced at Wesleyan within the last ten years.

Professor Bennett sings the part of "Ko-Ko," the lord high executioner, the leading comic role. The male lead, the part of "Nanki-Poo," is played by Dean Reed, freshman, Clay Center, who sings tenor. Helen Whitla, senior, Butte, sings the leading feminine role in the part of "Yum-Yum."

Others in the cast are: "The Mikado," Joe Bell, junior, Hay Springs; "Pooh-Bah," Alfred Boberg, senior, Clarks; "Pish-Tush," Austin Cramer, senior, Red Cloud; "Petti-Sing," Marjorie McPherrin, freshman, Auburn; "Peep-Bo," Phyllis Gordon, senior, Friend; and "Katisha," Ruth Krouch, senior, Pawnee City.

Rodney Stoltz, sophomore, Ord, is business manager, and Homer Mouden, junior, Lincoln, is technical director. Edna Mae Sams, senior, Lincoln, has charge of ticket sales.

Gorgeous costumes will be used. The stage of the auditorium has been enlarged for the performance.

CRITICISM SPURS U. S. SLEUTHS IN DILLINGER HUNT

new fight "to death" with Dillinger in the St. Paul, Minn., area, but they lacked verification.

Dillinger was reported "sighted" in Hammond, Ind., in Minnesota and elsewhere.

Federal officials continued to express confidence that they would soon have their man.

Melvin Purvis, head of the Chicago office of the federal division of investigation, disclosed that investigators believe that the arrest of some of Dillinger's henchmen will clear up the $200,000 kidnaping of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker.

Massing Near St. Paul.

CHICAGO, April 26— (AP) — The law, with 5,000 eager arms, slammed shut the stable door today, but the horse—John Dillinger —apparently was gone.

A great circle of men blocking highways and stopping all suspicious appearing persons, was swung for hundreds of miles around Mercer, Wis., to prevent the escape of the gunman; yet even as the circle tightened, there came reports that the desperado had slipped through.

Federal men, burning under such criticism as seldom is made of government detectives, were massing somewhere in the vicinity of St. Paul, Minn., believing Dillinger to be in that neighborhood and that a fight to the finish with him was imminent.

From other sections of the country, however, as far south as Virginia, came reports that Dillinger had been seen. Most of the reports were disproved. One or two however, remained question marks today.

Residents of Mercer, Wis., charged the federal agents with bungling the attempt to capture Dillinger at the Little Bohemia resort near that town Sunday night. To their demands that Melvin H. Purvis, head of the Chicago office of the bureau of investigation, resign his post, there was no reply. Purvis said: "I never comment on things of that kind."

Another Denunciation.

Another denunciation of the federal men came from Commissioner Oscar G. Olander of the Michigan department of public safety. He charged at Lansing that agents had failed to co-operate with the Michigan state police, and that their failure probably was responsible for the criminal's escape when he passed through Michigan last week. He accused them of refusing to permit Sergt. Fred Kune of the state police to attend a Dillinger conference called to map out details of the hunt for the deseprado.

Despite the criticism, federal men kept their own counsel and plugged away, confident they would maintain their reputation of "always getting their man."

Although the government technically wants the "million dollar gangster" only for the comparatively minor crime of transporting a stolen automobile from one state to another, Purvis disclosed last night the belief of investigators that the downfall of Dillinger and his men may definitely clear up the $200,000 abduction of Edward G. Bremer, the St. Paul banker.

Believe Pals Identified.

The federal operatives believe that Alvin Kappis of Chicago, Fred Barker and the latter's brother, Arthur (Doc) Barker, who have been identified through fingerprints in the Bremer "snatch," were with "Wooden Gun" Dillinger when they shot their way out of the government trap at the Little Bohemia resort. Homer Van Meter, John Hamilton, the first lieutenant of the Dillinger gang; Tom Carroll, and George (Baby Face) Nelson are reputed to have been the other marksmen with Dillinger when the federal raid was made.

Belief persisted in some quarters that Dillinger—or at least some of his chief henchmen—was hiding out in the Twin Cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis; but despite this, reports that the arch-gunman had been sighted poured in from all sections of the country.

Authorities at Hammond, Ind., thought that one of two gunmen who kidnaped a motorist there last night might be Dillinger. But Dillinger—if it were he — vanished again.

The motorist—Michael Madura, who was released said that after the gunmen had kidnaped him and taken his car, they wrecked it, but proceeded to commandeer another and escaped. One of them limped and when he asked him if he were Dillinger the kidnaper said:

"Never mind about Dillinger; get back in the car."

Valued Volume Presented By Mrs. Dahlman

WASHINGTON, April 26—(AP)—Mrs. James C. Dahlman, widow of Omaha's "cowboy mayor," today contributed a 131-year-old medical college notebook to the early medical history collection of Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore.

The notebook, painstakingly written in long hand with a quill pen, contains careful digests of all the lectures heard at Harvard in the year 1803 by Mrs. Dahlman's grandfather, Dr. Edmund Abbott of Frankfort (now Winterport), Me.

The lectures of Doctors Dexter, Warren, Waterhouse, and Hubbard, four founders of the American Medical association, are included in the volume.

She made the gift of the family heirloom because she has been dismantling for lease the Omaha home where the family has lived for more than 30 years, and thought the time opportune to put into museums material of historical value.

She is visiting her daughter, Dorothy Dahlman, RFC employe, here, enroute to Maine for a short stay at her old family home.

Vogeler Returns to His Office After Car Crash

Slightly disfigured but still in the ring, and thankful that the results of his experience were no worse, Field Supervisor R. F. Vogeler of the federal employment service in Nebraska returned Thursday morning to his desk at the capitol, after two days' absence receiving treatment at his home in Omaha following the highway accident near Tekamah last Monday in which he lost four teeth and fragments were splintered off of one jawbone.

Mr. Vogeler's face was swollen on one side from the injuries he sustained, but he escaped without any bad external gashes and will carry no permanent scars. His hurts were caused by his face striking the steering wheel when his car ran into a road maintenance machine in a thick cloud of dust on the road south of Tekamah.

3,500 Men at Work as $7,800,000 Road Work Is Started in State

seven mile stretch and grading is under way getting ready for paving between Fremont and Scribner on two Dodge county projects employing about 100 men.

Other east central projects already under way include bridge and culvert work between Prague and Morse Bluffs in Saunders county, grading and culverts between Waterloo and Omaha and paving on Dodge street in Omaha.

Southeastern Nebraska work includes grading, paving and bridge work between Auburn and Falls City, grading and pavement widening in Beatrice, grading and structures between Syracuse and Dunbar, grading east of Barneston in Gage county, bridge work south of Cook in Johnson county and grading between Table Rock and Steinauer in Pawnee county.

Central Projects Begin.

Both the north central and central sections of the state have more than half a dozen projects already under way. North central work includes grading to the national forest in Cherry county, grading and structures between Mason City and Ansley, culvert work in O'Neill, grading between Lynch and Spencer, gravel between Loup City and Ansley, grading and structures between Rockville and Boelus in Howard county, west of Wolbach and north of Mason City in Custer county.

In the central part of the state work is being done between Friend and Exeter, York and Stromsburg, near Columbus, near Aurora, between Shelton and Kearney, between Hampton and Sutton, north of Cairo and between Odessa and Overton.

Work under way in the south central region includes grading between Cambridge and Holbrook, between Hebron and Fairbury, graveling between Elwood and Stockville, bridge work between Davenport and Campbell and grading and structures between Ragan and Campbell.

Grading in Southwest.

To the southwest, men have started work grading and building culverts west of Culbertson, grading between Benkelman and Imperial, between Eustis and Farnam and on a bridge between Lebanon and Wilysonville.

In the panhandle, grading is nearly completed on a job between Broadwater and Bridgeport and work has begun on grading in Kimball preparatory to paving, grading and structures between Kimball and Bushnell and grading between Chappell and Brule.

Only two projects have started in the northwestern corner, paving in Alliance and grading and culverts between Alliance and Antioch.

TOWLE PLANNING QUICK TRIAL OF DEAN, RIVETTE

sibility the attorney appointed might seek delay of the trial, but the county attorney will resist every such request, re declared.

While Towle laid plans for the murder trial, a considerable amount of his time was taken up with continued preparations for the scheduled trial May 7 of State Land Commissioner Harry P. Conklin on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the state in connection with janitorial payrolls at the capitol.

After a conference with Attorney General Paul Good and Attorney Max Beghtol, chief counsel for the defense, Towle set arraignment of Conklin for Thursday afternoon. The land commissioner was served with a copy of the information Wednesday forenoon. Towle asked that the arraignment be held Thursday morning when the 24 hours allowed by statute for the defense to prepare to plead expired, but both Good and Beghtol expressed preference for the afternoon arraignment.

George Lane, former head capitol janitor, defendant in the same case, was in Omaha and service of the information on him could not be made until Thursday forenoon. His arraignment was postponed accordingly until later in the week. Deputy Land Commissioner J. H. Wehn was arraigned on the same charge earlier in the week and pleaded not guilty.

Controversy still continues over which of the defendants shall be tried first. Counsel for Wehn has demanded the first trial for the deputy, but Good and Towle have insisted Conklin be tried before the other defendants. Judge Frost has as yet made no ruling.

Babb Case Pending.

Coincident with these matters, Towle announced that tentative plans have been made for trial trial next week of Lloyd "Geechy" Harrison and Otis "Tim" Young, negroes, on a charge of abandoning a dead human body. Harrison and Young are alleged to have dumped the body of Charles P. Babb, Lincoln carpenter, along a street in the north part of the city on February 24. Search is still being made for Frances Holman, negress, against whom a first degree murder charge has been filed in connection with Babb's death.

Harrison and Young are alleged to have told Towle they took Babb's body from the Holman house. They were told by the negro woman, they have been quoted as saying, that Babb died from natural causes while in her home. On the information against the two young negroes, filed in District court Thursday, names of the following witnesses for state are endorsed: C. H. McCurdy, Eugene Masters, Mary Lee, Dr. George W. Covey, Max G. Towle, Farley Young, and George Valentine.

Attorney Charles Zajicek, counsel for Harrison and Young, said he would not ask separate trials for the two men, but that he expects to file a poverty plea alleging the two men have no money to pay for their own defense. The court would be asked to appoint an attorney at the county's expense, Zajicek declared.

Towle also had his office force prepare for filing an information in a grand larceny case against Adolph Frickel and Earl Hansen and announced his intention to try this case also during the next two weeks. The men are alleged to have taken tobacco and cigarets from an R. J. Reynolds salesman's truck January 31.

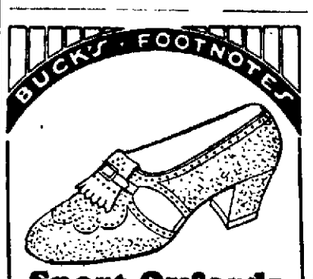

WARN OF STOLEN ORDERS.

Lincoln merchants and banks are warned by the postoffice department to be on the lookout for people attempting to pass money orders numbered 57083 to 57200 which were stolen from the Ronald, Washington, postoffice on February 8.

Face Red and Inflamed at All Times. Healed by Cuticura.

"My skin trouble began about a year ago and my face became so bad and I was so embarrassed that I dreaded to appear in public. The pimples were large, red and very hard, and they festered and scaled over. They itched an awful lot which caused my face to be red and inflamed at all times. "Then I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and wrote for a free sample. After using I noticed a great improvement so I bought more, and after using five cakes of Cuticura Soap with the Cuticura Ointment I was healed." CONFEREES IN AGREEMENT ON REVENUE BILL

Nearly All Senate Tax Boosts Accepted; Final Action Near.

WASHINGTON, April 26—(AP)—A $417,000,000 new revenue bill, representing a surprising conference victory for the senate's high-tax bloc, is on its way today toward final congressional enactment.

Senate-house conferees on the bulging tax measure came to agreement last night after two days of nerve-wracking work.

Their report accepted virtually all the senate increases in estate and gift taxes, the capital stock and excess profits taxes, and liberal compromises over income tax publicity and consolidated returns.

The conference agreement was complete except for the senate amendment adding 10 per cent to all individual income tax returns next year. The house will take a separate vote on this.

Should the house reject the 10 per cent "recovery" tax proposed by Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan, and accept the report, only senate approval of the report would be required to send the measure to the white house.

Part of Return Public.

It was generally believed the senate would not insist on the 10 per cent Couzens proposal if the house disapproved it.

The La Follette amendment, subjecting entire returns to public inspection, was modified to make only part of the return public.

Under the new provision, a taxpayer will be required to file a separate statement with his return giving his name and address, total gross income, total deductions, net income, total credits against net income and tax payable.

As for the bill as a whole, the $417,000,000 experts estimated the conference draft would raise in the first full year of operation does not take into account the $55,000,000 which the added one year 10 per cent income levy would bring in.

Smaller Surtaxes Accepted.

The smaller house surtaxes on the lower income brackets—4 to 19 per cent on net incomes from $4,000 to $32,000 in lieu of the senate's 5 to 21 per cent—were agreed to. The maximum surtax is 59 per cent compared with 55 in existing law.

The earned income credit provision was compromised, with 10 per cent deduction from net income for tax purposes being allowed on net incomes up to $14,000 instead of $20,000 provided by the senate and $8,000 by the house. The flat normal income tax of 4 per cent was not in controversy.

The senate estate taxes, ranging from 1 per cent on net estates of $20,000 to 60 per cent on those above $10,000,000 were accepted. The house group, however, won restoration of the existing $50,000 gross estate exemption as against the senate's $40,000.

The senate's provision abolishing the privilege of corporations to file consolidated returns was retained with a modification to permit railroads to continue to file single returns.

To Plant Fish at Park For Saturday Contest

5,000 Bullheads To Be Put In Stream at Pioneers; Prizes Offered.

In preparation for the fishing contest to be staged at Pioneers park Saturday afternoon, 5,000 bullheads, averaging about a pound each, will be placed above the dam in Haines branch Friday afternoon, Chester Ager, park executive, said.

The contest, which is scheduled to start at 2:30 p. m., and last for 30 minutes will be preceded by an address by R. M. Joyce, president of the Lincoln area scout council, L. C. Oberlies, head of the park department, will welcome the contestants.

Two first aid stations will be established by the scouts, and Eagle scouts and qualified life savers will be stationed at intervals along the bank of the creek.

Boys who enter the contest will have to furnish their own transportation, Ager said.

A rod and reel will be given as first prizes to the boy in each of six groups who catches the most fish. Similar prizes will also be given to girls. In addition there will be 60 fishing lines with hook, bobber and sinker given as prizes.

Complete Recovery of Business Is Not Far Distant Says Schwab

NEW YORK, April 26—(AP)—Radiating his usual optimism, Charles M. Schwab, the steel magnate, returned on the liner Rex today after a brief vacation on the Riviera.

He declined to comment upon recent business and industrial developments, explaining he had tried to forget about such matters on his trip.

"I want to say, however," he said, "that as president of the Iron and Steel institute I am behind President Roosevelt in everything he does. I have put in my best licks to help the president so far as the steel industry is concerned."

Schwab said he was certain the complete recovery of business was not far distant.

"The whole structure of business seems to have changed," he declared, "and to an old fellow like me such changes always seem radical. But I am right behind the administration in its business policies. We had our chance to help conditons and di dnot succeed. Let's give the administration an opportunity now."

"I want to see young men have a chance," he said.

Radium, Kas., the state's newest incorporated city, boosted the number of such communities in Kansas to 580.

HAMILTON, TEXAS OUTLAW, SEIZED

Escaped Convict Runs Into Arms of Law After Robbing Bank.

DALLAS, Tex., April 26—(AP)—A quick trial at which the prosecution will seek the death penalty was ordered today for Raymond Hamilton, Texas bad man, who was captured yesterday near Sherman, Tex.

Hamilton was brought here under heavy guard and Judge Nolan G. Williams ordered a special venire of 300 men to report Monday morning for jury service in the outlaw's trial on a charge of robbery with firearms—a capital offense—in the holdup of the Grand Prairie State bank March 19.

District Attorney Robert Hurt announced he would demand the death penalty and said he expected a jury would assess it in short order.

SHERMAN, Tex., April 26—(AP)—Raymond Hamilton, Texas bad man, was behind prison bars again today, his three months "vacation" at an end.

The erstwhile pal of Clyde Barrow, public enemy No. 1 of the southwest, ran right into the arms of the law yesterday when a party of officers halted his car as he sped away with $1,000 he had scooped up in a small town bank two hours before. Although two pistols were found in the car, Hamilton surrendered without a fight.

"I'm not a killer," Hamilton said. "I'd always give up at the showdown instead of fighting it out."

With Hamilton when his car was stopped at Howe, seven miles south of Sherman, was T. R. Brooks, 21 of Wichita Falls, Tex., whom Hamilton said he picked up on a freight train.

Hamilton, who made a sensational escape from Eastham prison farm three months ago, entered the First National bank at Lewisville, Denton county, yesterday, covered the president and assistant cashier with a pistol, scooped up loose cash in the cashier's cage and dashed out into a waiting car.

Hamilton said he had not seen Barrow "since the Lancaster bank robbery." He said they parted at Terre Haute, Ind., in a friendly split. He denied that Barrow had engineered his escape from Eastham prison farm, asserting he "bought his way out."

The desperado had been serving sentences aggregating 263 years for bank robberies, gas station holdups and other robberies.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

"LEGISLATIVE PANACEAS."

WHAT significance should be attached to President Roosevelt's informal statement Thursday before governmental associates, in which he counseled that the country must look ahead, to plan nationally, rather than depend on "legislative panaceas" for recovery or to continue to grow "haphazardly"?

The phrase "legislative panaceas" has acquired a new meaning in America since 1900. By some, it is interpreted to mean a steady growth of bureaucratic government. Under it, federal authority has been extended constantly. But even the recognition of new agencies in Washington and the growth of power by a central government does not disclose fully both the cause and the result of a demand that the troubles which harass and burden men shall be cured through legislation. Instead of settling their problems themselves, people have attempted to transfer them to the government. They have become accustomed to loading their cares on to Uncle Sam's broad shoulders so that the natural impulse in recent years has been to turn to government for a solution of every evil. Undoubtedly, that is what Mr. Roosevelt had in mind when he utilized the expression "legislative panaceas" as means of making clear his objection to certain developments in national policy.

In the simplest language, he suggests that the government cannot perform miracles. He makes clear there are problems in a free country, populated by a free people, which cannot be solved by legislation. These are brave words from a courageous heart, and they just about express the yearning of the American people:

"We want something more out of our program than just being alive. This is not simply a question of just preventing starvation. It is one of education—a more abundant life."

It is precisely that—education. When the storm was at its height, when people were threatened with starvation, when even the barest necessities were beyond reach of millions, there was no time to quibble over measures or policies. The immediate job was to relieve distress, and the energetic steps which were taken disclose a page in national history which is without any parallel in America. But the picture has been changing. Improvement in economic conditions has taken place, and is continuing. Action which seemed necessary and desirable a year ago, no longer appears in the same light. The pilot for months had to steer a course through dangerous reefs. On one hand, he was assailed by cries of communism and sovietism and radicalism. On the other, he was beset with the piteous appeals of people who had lost everything they possessed, including hope, courage, and self-confidence, and these people in their misery were asking that government undertake such responsibilities that in the end it would fall of its own dead weight. All who have been writing of the New Deal have insisted that the crisis would come when the hour arrived for the government to let go. But from one stage, the transition to another is slow, gradual, and unappreciable. That is what is taking place at Washington now.

There hasn't been a more significant utterance from President Roosevelt than his plea that America must not depend utterly and wholly upon "legislative panaceas." It is a call to arms, delivered in friendly fashion to governmental workers, but directed to the nation, and most particularly, to those charged with leadership in business and industry in the nation. If planning means anything at all, it requires consideration of all of the factors involved in national prosperity and in national welfare. It recognizes what has prevailed in traditions of government and in daily habits of living. It proposes consideration shall be given to the changing currents arising which necessitate change in the course or in the policy.

Mr. Roosevelt is not willing to admit America has arrived at that stage in national welfare where escape from starvation is about the only hope which may be dangled before the eyes of the majority of the present and the future generations. Therein lies the principal distinction between the objective of the New Deal and the "normalcy" of but a few years ago. Mr. Roosevelt does not believe that America has reached the height of her glory. His is the faith that there still is the resourcefulness, the industry, the ingenuity, and the natural wealth to build a more abundant life. There still is the basis for dreams of new conquests. He proffers not stern, rigid, and inelastic legislative fiat, but leadership which aims at education that the evils which brought us near to ruin shall not reappear, but that a moral, honest, and industrious people shall move forward. The cynic will laugh, but for millions, ideals and purposes of that type will be as rain to thirsty soil.

ED HOWE AND SILERIUS.

THE Minneapolis Journal says that classical scholars in the southwest have been puzzled somewhat by quotations appearing in public prints credited to an ancient Latin author who was named Silerius. "The name was strangely familiar," the Journal remarks, but could not be found in classical dictionaries or in Britannica." Then a well known columnist let the cat out of the bag with the following:

"Ed Howe often quotes a 'made-up' Roman philosopher whom he calls Silerius."

Still Mr. Howe would not surrender. It was only after he received the following letter that he confessed:

"I notice that you have quoted old Silerius as saying thus and so. It is true that in Volume 1, he wrote as you have quoted. But if you will read on to Volume 2 of his memoirs, you will find that he reversed himself in his old age completely on this point."

Which recalls how an enterprising correspondent in the northwest country some years ago caught himself in his own bear trap. He had sent out a short story of how an old trapper, a recluse in the mountains, had fought a desperate and losing battle with a big silver tip. He thought, apparently, the name would not produce repercussions. But a few hours later, another bureau point, some hundreds of miles away, contributed the following:

"John Blank, a brother of Blank Blank, was apprized of the death of his kin, whom he had not seen for twenty years."

Was that northwest correspondent's face red!

It was the last bear fight he ever invented.

"MONROE DOCTRINE" IN FAR EAST?

ONE of the important tests in judging Japan's pronouncement of guardianship for the far east must be our own Monroe doctrine of more than a century ago.

Generally speaking, President Monroe told the world in his famous message to congress on Dec. 2, 1823, that the United States would act a guardian role for the Americas.

But, the similarity ends right there. The motives and means of the two pronouncements or doctrines are so different that no fair-minded person can justify the Nipponese challenge on the basis of Monroe's policy.

It should be recalled that in 1823, the United States was one of the new republics in the world. What this young nation feared most was the extension of European monarchial systems in a threatening web about our newly-freed country. We asked no new territory, we sent no armed forces to carve out puppet states—in fact our motive was one of self-protection.

Contrast this with Japan's declaration. That empire has no cause to fear for its own security. The truth is that the many nations who held Chinese territories or spheres of influence before the war have relinquished many of those privileges. China, boiling eternally with factional strife and banditry, seems unable to defend itself, let alone attack anyone else. Soviet Russia wants no war, because conflict would disrupt its economic program.

The obvious situation is that Japan needs and is going out after territory for the settlement of its crowded millions. Korea it took for this purpose many years ago. With blood and bullets, Manchukuo was more recently set up, admittedly as a Japanese protectorate.

Whatever Japan's' justification or cause for proclaiming far eastern supremacy, the too frequently misunderstood Monroe doctrine cannot be offered as a precedent.

THE MUNICIPAL SHAKEUP.

THE shakeup in the Lincoln city commission was probably the more welcome because it had been so long delayed. Citizens had become exasperated by the continued bickering and the apparent inability of one member of the commission to work in harmony with the others. It is to be hoped that in the future there will be less of friction, for if conditions that have prevailed in the past continue, demand for a change in system is liable to become insistent.

Lincoln people have in the past looked with little favor on the city manager plan, but they are now to a very great extent willing to believe that almost anything would be better than the constant pulling at cross purposes which has been going on in recent months.

A man who finds it impossible to do team work with those with whom he is associated has no business in public life, and when he finds that his position is opposed by all of his co-officials that fact should carry to him a realization that he is probably wrong. No one can have his own way all of the time and no one is always right. One holding public office should first consider the public good, and this means that the official must at times sacrifice his private opinion to that of the majority.

Because of the friction that has existed in the city commission the usefulness of the health department has been impaired, and it was because the majority of the members realized that such condition constituted a menace to the health of the citizenry that it was finally determined to take drastic action. The obstinate regard of one man for his own views must not be allowed to jeopardize the safety of an entire community.

As to the city manager plan, there can be no doubt that the squabbling that has been going on in the commission has had the effect of causing people to take a deeper interest in the system and to inquire whether such manner of co-ordination were not worth the trial. It all depends ,of course, on the person or persons in charge of the municipal government. City managers have been eminently successful in some places, while in others they have been failures. Just so have some city commissions succeeded, while others have failed.

FROM THE VALLEY OF THE McKENZIE.

DIRECTOR BLAIR of the Lincoln weather station comes forward with an explanation as to why the present April has disgraced itself to the extent of denying Nebraska the welcome showers of spring, and bids fair of taking rank with 1910 and 1926 as one of the dryest seasons in a stretch of fifty years.

The trouble started many miles from home, to be exact in the lower valley of the McKenzie river as it fights its way through virgin forest and frozen wastes to the Arctic ocean. There is the source of the air currents which have been sweeping down over the plains during most of March and throughout April. It isn't customary at this season of the year, or to employ the language of California, it is most extraordinary. But the warmer air from the gulf and from the lower Pacific coast has been shut out while the cool, dry currents from the McKenzie valley and from the Hudson bay region hold the monopoly.

Now, if Mr. Blair only will tell us what to do about it, we'll proceed immediately. But he is a truthful and a frank individual and confesses he does not know why the air currents move in from the Arctic when the rule of the season suggests they should come from the gulf. And more than that, he does not pretend anything can be done about it, except to grin and to pretend that we like it.

UNCLE SAM'S HOLDINGS.

UNTIL 1915, Uncle Sam was the largest seller of land in the world. For 150 years, the government had pursued a deliberate policy of encouraging settlement and as a means to the end had placed vast areas within reach of people. Under the homestead act, more than a million farm homes were established and more than 160 million acres of the choicest soil from the standpoint of production passed into private hands. The closing chapters in that colonization area were written in Oklahoma, Arizona, New Mexico, Wyoming, and Montana.

Now there is no more land, of arable value, and exactly the opposite governmental policy has gained impetus. The government is buying land back, not only to retire it from production, but to add to the national forests and parks. The holdings the government now has will prove surprising. There is embraced in the national forests, parks, and reserves an aggregate of 161 million acres, 21 million of which are located in Alaska.

The present program calls for the acquisition of 10 million acres of the poorest farming land, which it is proposed, shall be converted into forests, recreation areas, game refuges, and other non-agricultural programs. Prior to then, the government had acquired, chiefly in the eastern states, approximately 4½ million acres from private owners, all of which were added to national and state forests. In comparison to the vast holdings already possessed by the government, the program, then, to purchase 10 million acres does not involve an undertaking of the magnitude so generally conjured up in the popular mind. In time, it is to be presumed, should population increase warrant it, the lands now acquired or to be acquired shd to be retired from production, enriched by idleness, again will pass into private ownership.

QUESTION.
Little Rock, Ark.
Why all this fuss about money? I have very little of it and I don't envy those who have lots of it. So long as one's needs are met why cry for the moon?

ANSWER.

You are to be congratulated on your freedom from the dehumanizing vice of envy. Its jagged teeth gnaw the vitals of too many miserable souls. Doubtless those who think as you do have a strengthening conception of life. Even so, money is a tremendously important factor in the modern world and for this reason it creates numberless difficulties and solves as many more.

Its getting, giving and spending involve our justice and our injustice, our generosity and our meanness, our good and our ill. Hence the necessity of a social order which controls the Mammonites and encourages benefactors. Human affairs are so arranged that the wealthy individual's service must often be done by proxy. His part is that of the paymaster. And since all true service ranks alike with God, the poorest of his children who serves is the equal of the most benevolent millionaire.

Gold in itself is on the unemployed list, and may be a menace to its possessor until it is transmuted into religious, educational, artistic and philanthropic enterprises. Even before this is done the hungry must be fed and the naked clothed. The ideal which best governs money is that of stewardship, not ownership, and unless this idcal prevails in advanced political programs and social practices they will fall short of their objectives.

There is a blessing on wealth made honestly and used sacrifically. There is a curse on wealth made dishonestly- and used selfishly. Worldlings may regard this as doctrinaire, far fetched and stodgy. But a long look at life confirms its truth in innumerable ways.

QUESTION.
Dayton, Ohio.
Do you not think that the story of creation in the Book of Genesis could be omitted from new editions of the Bible? Nobody believes in the story today, so why go on printing it?

ANSWER.

There is no more beautiful ancient literature than that of the Genesis document. Did you expect that the author or compilers of the book would be acquainted with Newton's theory of gravitation or that of Einstein on relativity? Why then be blind to the great values of Genesis, quite apart from scientific doctrines originating in later discoveries?

Apply to its pages the test of spiritual suggestiveness, and the opening words are vastly more important than any learned hypothesis. "In the beginning God" is a portentous announcement made at a dark time when polytheism was predominant. It illuminates the universe and its life by ascribing their origin and development to a single Creator of infinite wisdom and benevolence.

The stories of man's appearance on the scene and of the Edenic garden and his expulsion from it are not to be measured by standards of history, but by their moral helpfulness. Bunyan's "Pilgrims Progress" never actually happened in every detail, as you know, yet it depicts an inner conflict which is taking place in countless souls every day. Would you exterminate Bunyan's book because Giant Despair of Doubting Castle and the rest of its characters are more or less imaginary?

Eminent scholars in the field of modern research favor the early chapters of Genesis more than you seem to suspect. Dr. J. B. S. Haldane says in his "Causes of Evolution" that "our first parents are represented as living in a state of ignorance and then suddenly acquiring the knowledge of good and evil. This may conceivably be true." Professor C. M. Joad, a distinguished English philoseopher, says that "the Biblical method which represents God as breathing the breath of life into clay is a fairly accurate conception, since it shows life as an independent principle entering into association with matter." I therefore believe that Genesis has not only religious but literary and moral excellencies which forbid its exclusion from the Bible. Read it, however, as poetry, and epic poetry at that, with an entrancing theme for its amazing descriptive powers.

QUESTION.
Oakland, Calif.
Where does one get the greatest amount of happiness, at work or play?

ANSWER.

Why not get happiness out of both? One person will tell you he finds more pleasure in his job than anything else and another that he looks forward joyously to his days off. Yet as it seems to me a normal individual feels most satisfaction when he can say that something attempted and done has earned his leisure hours.

Of course, work is the soul of wholesome life, As a pastor I have long since discovered that devastating and incurable unhappiness is associated with idle hands, frivolous hearts and bored minds. Moreover, happiness depends far less on outward circumstances than on inward zest, fullness and faith; while the graver diseases of the spirit are those of willful idleness.

Yet it shows poor judgment to be so monopolized by your task as to be shut off from life's recreational side. The stern doctrine that the devil always finds some mischief for idle hands to do is only half true. What about the hands that are frozen to their job, never know release, and in some instances do not want it. For them the whole world beyond their restricted routine is just a blank.

It seems therefore that a balanced division between work and play which takes care of the essentials of both is the wisest scheme. The feeling of restful liberty to which, if we are human, we surrender at the end of a busy day is as I see it real happiness. The family gathering around the fireside at the day's close should be the most delightful assemblage this side of heaven.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

SCIENCE SHOWS THAT THIN PERSON CAN GAIN WEIGHT

Dr. Clendening

If dietetics is such an exact science—and I have been trying to show this week that it is, as physiological sciences go, a high rating for exactness — why isn't it possible, you ask, to keep people on a good average as to body weight?

Of all dietetic questions, the two which interest most pepole are: "How can a skinny person like me, get plump?" and "How can a fatty like me, get thin?"

There are a great many different answers involved in these apparently simple questions. First, as anybody can observe, there is the matter of taste. I mean gustatory taste. It has even become imbedded in a nursery rhyme. And Jack Sprat, who would eat no fat, and his wife, who would eat no lean, not only licked the platter clean but they also developed two opposite types of body build.

But the very fact that this matter of varying taste enters into the calculations shows that dietetics is really an exact science. Because in spite of all the protests from the people involved, and in spite of the invocation to the act of the ductless glands, modern dietetic science has shown that people can get plump by eating more and get thin by eating-less. And especially by eating the right kinds of food.

With the overweights, we will not deal today, but we have recent proof that the proper dietetic control alone will cause the underweights to approximate a normal weight.

In a private boarding school for boys, a separate dining room was arranged and ten places set for ten boys chosen for underweight, but otherwise normal.

By giving them plenty to eat (a high calorie diet) and encouraging them to eat it, they all gained weight. Three points in the report, which is published in a well-known medical journal, are worth noting:

1. An especially rich diet did not cause a gain in weight as rapidly as an all-around "full" diet. To be particular, cream and butter were not as effective as bread, butter, milk, meat, vegetables, sugar, dessert and fruits.

2. The causes of underweight in older children are: (a) A fundamental, unexplained taste for food low in nutritive value, i. e., a boy given a chop will eat only the lean portion; (b) when underweight begins to be evident, nobody takes the trouble to advise the boy to eat foods high in nutritive value, naming the foods; (c) a long, thin stoop-shouldered form of body combined with over-activity in athletics.

3. It is not enough simply to bring the food to the underweight; by the aid of psychology he must be encouraged to eat more than has been his custom. Two instances: Instead of making a boy proud of saying, "I haven't eaten a creamed potato for five years," he begins to boast of being a big, non-discriminating eater. Play on vanity; if he is robust, he will be good football material.

All you need to capture world markets is enough dumb employes working at 30 cents a day to make you rich.

DIET RULE.

The doctor thumps my back and chest
And says there's nothing wrong.
"Your food you properly digest;
I find your heart is strong.
But since you ache the way you do,
I'd give up pie if I were you!

"I'm sure of bread you eat too much.
Cut down your starch supply.
Fried foods henceforth you mustn't touch;
Pass all the sweetmeats by."
And then he lightly says to me;
"Drink buttermilk instead of tea."
But very sadly I reply.
"Dear doctor, tell to me
A simpler diet rule, that I
At breakfast, lunch or tea,
May always know precisely what
Is safe to eat and what is not.

"The lists you give I always lose.
I swallow what is banned.
Give me a simple rule to use
That I can understand."
And then he scribbled on a card
"Whatever food you like is barred."

Uncle Sam's Helpers.

Sterling, Neb., April 20.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Uncle Sam's so-called helpers and their close kin, the striking workers, are a hindrance to more rapid prosperity. They both do not think nor care for employers or the rest of the people, but only of their own selfish means. If both would strive to help progress of country by thinking of fellow citizens and employers, instead of more money, less work and generally raising a rumpus, this country would make more rapnd strides to prosperity.

A READER.

What to Do?

Huntley, Neb., April 23.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I saw in a recent issue of The Lincoln Star that the board of trade sold wheat futures to the extent of $56,519,000 on April 19. It will enrich someone and ruin the blind man, as we have read the board has forced prices down, and no doubt will bankrupt many farmers.

Here comes the question? Has the administration no authority over the grain gambling system? Is it not true that a government is organized for the sole purpose of aiding the weaker from being ruined by the stronger, and how be it that such abuses as the grain gambling system are forcing up on the farmer are not noticed by the department of agriculture? I think the authorities should put both of their hands over their face and look between their fingers as a child after committing a folly.

Just read the national democratic platform, which says that the enactment of every constitutional measure that will aid the farmers to receive for their basic farm commodities prices in excess of cost.

Then, just look at Capper's Weekly for October 7, 1933. He says the best time to stabilize the dollar would be when our farm or commodity price level is brought up to where it was in 1926. To pay a $1.000 note then did not take more than $1.500 worth of wheat. Just think. One dollar would buy one and one half bushel of wheat. I think just such propaganda is in back of the grain gambling devices. Capper is a republican and no doubt remembers what ex-secretary Hyde said in the fall of 1929. Government statistics show that it cost the farmer $1.24 to raise one bushel of wheat, and sixty-two cents to raise one bushel of corn. When he says the farm adjustment is working to bring the parity of farm prices up to the 1926 level, it is in the interest of every farmer to work with the adjustment administration.

Mr. Capper thinks that when one dollar buys a bushel and a half of wheat that prices ought to be stabilized at that. Consider such a statement with a senator's salary at $14,000, with $5,000 clerk hire. How many farmers would it take to raise 28,500 bushels of wheat to pay one senator. Such wisdom is like Mr. Hoover when he said that we all have an equal chance in the world—which means that a millionnaire's son and a beggar's son have equal chances. Such men are not fit for public office.

CHARLES E. GUSTAFSON.

Note: The figure Mr. Gustafson uses for a senator's salary is incorrect. Up until the passage of the economy act the salary of a senator was $10,000 a year. It was cut to $8,500. under the ecenomy act but part of the cut has been restored under the new general offices' appropriations' bill.

An Exception.

Lincoln, Neb., April 24.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The other day Arthur Brisbane said, "A lawyer, according to law, can engage in practices that would mean the penitentiary for others." I am not disputing this, but wish to amend a statement I made in your column recently: "Ignorance of the law excuses no one." On thinking it through I conclude that lawyers are exceptions to the rule.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

A Sudden Change of Mind

Joy is like a magic wand,
Chasing gloom from out the land.
—Jerry Muskrat.

"Where have you been all this time?" asked Jerry.

Nowhere in all the Great World was there greater happiness than in a little pool in the Laughing Brook between the Smiling Pool and the Big River. There Jerry Muskrat, on his way to the Big River because he was no longer happy in the Smiling Pool, had met Mrs. Jerry on her way to the Smiling Pool. You remember that they had been separated by the great flood and Mrs. Jerry had been so long gone that Jerry had given up hope of ever seeing her again.

"Where have you been, my dear? Where have you been all this time?" asked Jerry.

"Trying to get back home," replied Mrs. Jerry. "I was carried ever so far and I have had a dreadful time getting back. There were times when I thought I never, never would get to the Smiling Pool again."

Then she told him all about her adventures and narrow escapes, and how as the water has fallen she had at last found herself on the bank of the Big River. "Then I knew that if I kept going I would sometimes reach the Laughing Brook, and I did," said she. "Jerry Muskrat, you have no idea how good the Laughing Brook looked to me when at last I reached it. And all the time I wondered what had become of you, and if I would find you at the Smiling Pool. Why aren't you there now? What are you doing way down here?"

"I was on my way to the Big River," replied Jerry.

"What for?" asked Mrs. Jerry.

"To get away from the Smiling Pool," replied Jerry.

"Get away from the Smiling Pool!" exclaimed Mrs. Jerry. "Of all things! What is the matter with the Smiling Pool?"

"Nothing now, I guess," replied Jerry. "That is, there won't be anything the matter with it when we get back there."

"So you have changed your mind and are going back. What for?" asked Mrs. Jerry slyly.

"I am if you are," replied Jerry promptly.

"I thought you were going down to the Big River," said Mrs. Jerry.

"I don't care anything about the Big River," declared Jerry stoutly. "That is, unless you want to go there," he added.

"I've seen all of the Big River I ever want to see, and more," declared Mrs. Jerry in such a decided tone that there was no doubt that she meant just what she said. "I'm going back to the Smiling Pool."

"So am I," said Jerry.

"And I can't get there any too soon," added Mrs. Jerry.

"I feel the same way," replied Jerry.

"Then let's be on our way," said Mrs. Jerry.

"That suits me," Jerry replied promptly.

"Come on, then," retorted Mrs. Jerry, and started up the Laughing Brook.

Sometimes swimming side by side, sometimes one behind the other, they made their way up the Laughing Brook. It was not such easy going as it had been for Jerry on his way down. The water was still high and in places swift, so swift that they had to climb out and go along the bank.

They had been traveling some time when suddenly Jerry stopped. "Listen!" he commanded.

"What is it?" asked Mrs. Jerry anxiously.

"The singers in the Smiling Pool. Don't you hear them?"

Mrs. Jerry listened. Sure enough, above the sound of the running water she heard the distant chorus of the Peepers in the Smiling Pool. "It is the sweetest sound I've ever heard," she declared, and began to hurry on.

PEARSON FUNERAL HELD AT ASHLAND

(Special to The Star.)

ASHLAND, April 26—Funeral services were held here Thursday afternoon for J. Arthur Pearson, 30, eldest son of James Pearson, Shenandoah, Ia., former legislator and lieutenant governor of Nebraska. Mr. Pearson died at Maryville, Mo., Tuesday of typhoid fever.

He was buried in the cemetery here in the plot with his wife, his mother and his sister. He was a graduate of the Moorefield, Neb., high school, where the Pearson family lived for many years. During one session of the legislature in Lincoln he was a page in the house and at another time was a messenger in the senate.

He is survived by a daughter, 5, and a son 8.

KIDNAP SUSPECT NABBED IN K. C.

Chipman Held for Abduction of Rutstein at Boston in 1932.

KANSAS CITY, April 26—(AP)—Max Chipman, former New York taxicab driver, today faced a trip to Boston for trial as the alleged "finger man" in the abduction of Herman P. Rutstein, Oct. 11, 1932.

Chipman, sought by Boston police since Rutstein was accidentally discovered five days after he was kidnaped and held for $40,000 ransom, was surprised by officers at a night club here last night.

Searched for weapons, he surrendered a .38 caliber revolver. Its wooden grip contained two notches. Chipman had been living here several months, moving from hotel to hotel, night by night.

Kidnaped Man Tortured.

Rutstein was kidnaped from in front of his home and taken to a small cottage at Nantasket Beach where he eventually was discovered by searching parties tied to a bed in an upstairs room. He had been tortured during his five days imprisonment and was on the verge of nervous collapse. Three men, Max Schecter and William Harmon, both of New York, and Walter Ardison, of Boston, were found with him. They admitted their guilt and are now serving prison sentences of from 17 to 25 years.

A fourth man, Morris Cohen, was arrested in Boston on information given by the trio and now is serving a similar sentence.

Unspoken Forgiveness.

"Unspoken forgiveness," is the term coined by Dorothy Parker for a wifely habit, which is, alas, sadly wanting in most wives.

We all feel contempt for the nagging woman—or for that matter the nagging man—but few of us realize it when we are naggers, and many of us accomplish the same despised ends without saying very much.

Many a wife, who is parallel in destructiveness to the worst nag, utilizes the method of silence. She is stonily silent, or weepily wordless, or moodily untalkative, when Friend Husband is a-bunger and a-thirst for a little cheer and companionship, or a pat on the back and an encouraging word to send him on his way.

When the wife adopts such tactics, she is virtuously sure of her ground. She has magnified in her mind some sin of omission or commission of her husband, some blunder which he has long since forgotten if indeed he ever knew what he did. So she sulks, or pouts, or freezes the poor man. And he fares forth to work with an uncomfortable conviction that he is a villain and unfit to be the husband of the little woman, or with white anger in his soul at the whole marriage proposition, discouraged or desperate as his particular temperament may dictate his reaction.

Oh, the nag is not necessarily the wife who keeps at the husband every minute he is in the house "to keep his ashes off the floor," to "hang up his hat," to "fold his papers after reading," or perhaps to "quit fiddling with that radio." That nervous, chirping type of nag is really the least offensive of the lot, because the husband reaches a point where he actually doesn't hear her.

There's the woman who says with deadly calm, "Mrs. D called today, wearing her new spring outfit and tells me they are leaving next week for a month's round of the golf clubs," knowing full well that the poor husband is up to his neck in debts and worries, and that reminder of the affluence of neighbors is salt on his wounds.

Or, there's the woman who drags a tired, over-worked man to party after party, then asks him with biting irony why he can't "be jolly like those other men."

There are many ways of nagging. There are as many ways of understanding, too.

Marital life can be immeasurably sweetened through daily doses of Dorothy Parker's remedy, "Unspoken forgiveness."

Revealing Himself.

Dear Minerva: I am eighteen years old and have been going with one boy for two years. He is in love with me and very jealous. He cannot take me anyplace himself just now, but he vows our friendship will discontinue at once if I go out with any other fellow.

Don't you think he is unreasonable? It gets mighty tiresome sitting at home all the time. I like him a lot and don't want to hurt his feelings. But I haven't known many fellows and I'd like to know more of them.

Should I remain loyal to him, or make dates with other boys?—EIGHTEEN.

A.—Go with the other boys, by all means. You are entirely too young to be tied down to one young man. It is only by going around with many boys and girls that you can learn anything of human nature, and how to gain poise with your associates and understanding of them.

Your peevish young man is not only unreasonable, but is selfish, jealous and unsure of himself. He is only showing himself up when he makes such a demand.

Worth Waiting For.

Dear Minerva: I have two suitors and am sorely perplexed to know which one to marry. I am wildly in love with one man. I am thrilled at the sound of his voice or the mere sight of him walking up the steps. He wants to marry me, but he is very cold and indifferent. He is impatient, selfish and really cruel in many little ways. He is demanding and would expect a lot of service and perfection from a wife. It frightens me to think of marrying him, yet it breaks my heart to think of losing him.

The other man is mad about me, but he doesn't thrill me at all. He treats me as if I were a princess, makes me feel so lovely and important. He never can do enough for me. But lots of times I make excuses to him just because I don't want to see him. Many times he bores me. I find myself imposing on him terribly. Yet I know he would be dependable and sweet and steady always. Isn't this a distracting puzzle, to have two such opposite suitors. I am unhappy in my indecision. Please advise me.—MILLY.

A. Much depends upon your nature. If you are the sort of girl who finds happiness in service to others and real glory in self sacrifice, you might find some joy in marrying the man who thrills you.

If you are a girl who dramatizes yourself, and who enjoys being adored and petted and made over, then marriage with the second man might bring you increasing satisfaction.

But, the ideal marriage is the fifty-fifty kind, where the man and maid love each other with equal fervor, where each does a share of the sacrificing and each has consideration for the other. In the perfect marriage, each is willing to do more than his share, and the kisses exchanged do more than thrill or flatter. Such a marriage is worth waiting for. Don't compromise with anything less.

Answered Briefly.

Ruth: What a foolish thing you are doing, destroying your own married happiness because of a love affair which your husband had many years ago and which you just learned about. That event of past years has nothing to do with either you or your husband now. He is not in love with that memory. Why should you let such a ghost of long ago despoil your home and love?

Bonnie: You'd better forget the young man. Either he was insincere in his protestations of love for you, or else his ambitions and other influences in his life have caused him to avoid marriage for the present. You have no reason to reproach yourself. It was merely a mistake.

Make This Model At Home

IT'S CHARMING! THIS FROCK FOR COTTONS. PATTERN 1830.

BY ANNE ADAMS.

A panel which turns into a girdle and ends in a crisp little sash does very nice things for the wearer of this attractive model — and the graceful flounces on the shoulders put on the finishing touches. It is a very pleasant thing to have whether you make it of a pretty cotton print, a plain fabric or a soft silk or chiffon. There is no reason on earth why you shouldn't have it in all of them. The shops are full of the loveliest fabrics which sell for a song—and any woman can run up the frock in the moments she usually lets slip into the future.

Pattern 1830 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 takes 3 7-8 yards 36 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

NATURALIZATION FEES SLASHED

Cost of Citizenship Is Reduced By Half In New Order.

Official notification that naturalization fees have been slashed by the government was hailed, when received by the clerk of the District court Thursday, as "the very best kind of news" for Lincoln's foreign born residents who desire to become United States citizens.

Naturalization classes have been small ever since fees were boosted in 1929 nearly four-fold over the rate existing before that time, Miss Nellie Newmark, naturalization clerk, declared. The reduction now ordered in effect cuts the 1929 rates, under which the minimum cost of becomin a citizen was $20, in half or more for all papers.

"Many have been forced to give up plans to become United States citizens in the past five years because they have been unable to pay the fees," Mis Newmark said. "This reduction will mean a lot to those people."

Applicants are not to be heavily penalized under the new rules for losing one of their papers as they were under the charges in effect since 1929. A certified copy of the mislaid paper will now cost only $1 whereas the cost for such replacement has been $10.

The fee for a certificate of arrival is cut from $5 to $2.50. The same reduction is made in the charge for the declaration of intention, generally referred to as the "first paper." The fee for "second papers" has been cut from $10 to $5. Charges for other papers to meet special circumstances which sometimes arise have also been reduced.

Scout Executives Of Six States Expected

Nearly All Professional Workers in Movement Due for Regional Conference Here.

Almost every professional Boy Scout worker in Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa and Missouri is expected to attend the four day regional conference in Lincoln beginning Sunday, according to Fred G. Davie, scout executive of the region. The conclave will be held at the Lincoln hotel from Sunday to Thursday.

A number of scout executives from the various councils will have part in the program. Rex I. Gary, scout exec. tive at St. Joseph, Mo., is the chairman of the work schedule, while local Scout Executive B. B. Dawson has complete charge of the pioneer "daze," which is to be held Monday night, at which time fifteen new executives now classified by the men of Region 8 as "Dudes" will be initiated.

Other scout executives serving as chairmen of committees include H. Roe Bartle, Kansas City, Mo., A. A. Stocker, Topeka, Kas., and J. D. Wright of Omaha, Neb. A number of other scout executives have certain duties to perform and are known as Rough Riders, Broncho Busters, Range Riders, Cow Punchers, and Ranglers.

U. S. Foreign Trade Shows a Good Gain

WASHINGTON, April 26— (AP) — United States foreign trade was shown by department of commerce figures today to have increased more than seasonally in March, when exports gained $27,000,000 and imports $25,000,000 over February.

Exports were $190,000,000 compared with imports of $158,000,000 to give a favorable balance of trade of $32,000,000, compared with a favorable balance of $13,155,000 in March last year.

The commerce department said a considerable part of the gain in both exports and imports was attributed to the greater number of days in March than in February and to the usual increased movement of trade in this period.

The value of exports, however, ordinarily increases about 11 per cent from February to March while this year the value increased 17 per cent. General imports, which usually increase about 12 per cent, were 19 per cent greater in value.

agreement signed by the managers and the railway labor executives:

"Basic rates of pay until changed upon notice as hereinafter provided shall remain as under the agreement of January 31, 1932, as extended, 7½ per cent shall be deducted from the pay check of each of the employes covered by this agreement for the period beginning July 1, 1934, and ending December 31 1934, inclusive, and said deduction shall be reduced to 5 per cent for the period beginning January 1, 1935, and ending March 31, 1935, inclusive, and no further deduction shall be made under this agreement thereafter.

"No notices of changes in basic rates of pay shall be served by any party upon any other party prior to May 1, 1935.

"With respect to employes in the lower paid brackets, the foregoing shall not be taken to prevent discussion and adjustment between individual carriers and organizations with respect to spreading employment or of the matter of opportunity or increased earning of part time employes, but changes in basic rates shall in no event be involved.

"If, as and when, on or after May 1, 1935, notices of changes in basic rates shall be served by any of the organizations or carriers now represented by the railway labor executives association or the conference committee of managers, it is undrstood that said association and said committee cannot bind any such organization or any such carrier in respect thereto, but they do recommend that in the event that general wage movements are inaugurated, the proceeding under such notices should be conducted nationally in pursuance to the railway labor act."

U. S. AMBASSADOR ASKS JAPAN TO EXPLAIN POLICY

conferred with Foreign Minister Hiroto in Tokyo under instructions from Washington.

Indications in Geneva were that China may appeal to signatories of the nine-power treaty against Japan's Asiatic policy.

Some Washington observers linked President Roosevelt's full navy declaration with the developments between Japan and China.

In Nanking, authorities denied a report that China would negotiate a $100,000,000 loan with the United States.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, former governor general of the Philippines, asserted there was danger to the islands' economic independence in Japan's policy. He said the United States has never realized the significance of Philippine independence.

Link Navy Plans.

WASHINGTON, April 26—(AP)—President Roosevelt's move to expand the navy was linked today with Japan's "hands off China" policy.

Although officials gave no basis whatsoever for the connection, administration aides were informed that in London and other world capitals the two developments were mentioned in the same breath.

The state department, however, held to the strict silence it has maintained since the Japanese semi-official pronunciamento was issued nine days ago. In this deliberate silence, the best informed observers found intimation that the United States plans no immediate diplomatic move in far eastern affairs.

The Washington Post added that: "Observers saw in the change of policy a hint to Japan that two could play at the game of indirect statement."

Alfred Sao Ke Sze, the Chinese minister, and Ambassadors Rosso of Italy, Sir Ronald Lindsay of Great Britain, and De La Boulaye of France, all have conferred within recent hours with either Secretary Hull or Under Secretary Phillips.

COWBOYS AND RANCHERS JOIN KIDNAPER HUNT

a wealthy old Arizona family, a roughly printed note which demanded $15,000 for the release of his daughter and warned the father not to report her abduction to authorities.

Disregarding the threats, Robles called in authorities and word of the girl's kidnaping spread quickly.

Ranchers and cowboys quickly offered their services in the search for the granddaughter of Bernabe Robles, wealthy Spanish rancher of a family that has lived in this vicinity since the Spanish land grant days. His ranch nearby has been a landmark for 50 years.

Legion Ready To Mobilize.

Today the Morgan McDermott post of the American Legion was ready to mobilize its members to aid in the far-flung search for the little girl.

Late last night three unnamed men were taken into custody by police after a newsboy said they resembled the trio who offered him $10 to take a note to June's father. Police said the men admitted accosting the newsboy, Leon Castor, but declared their actions were a "practical joke." Two of them were released by police, who indicated the third would be freed later today.

With every road in this vicinity watched, authorities searched every corner of the city with the same determination that a few months ago they captured Dillinger, notorious midwestern desperado, and three of his companions.

Meanwhile police sought to identify the man who gave young Estrado 25 cents to take the ransom note to the girl's father with instructions to bring an answer back to an automobile parking lot near the store of the father.

Sender of Note Disappears.

When the boy returned with the answer the man was gone. Ray Orcutt, operator of the parking stand, later told police the man was an American about 30 years old and was dressed in dirty grey suit and brown slough hat. His face, Orcutt said, was heavily tanned.

Members of the girl's family discounted any possibility that June entered the kidnaper's car voluntarily, saying she was afraid of kidnapers and only recently remarked, "Children have to be careful." They described her as shy.

The ransom note ordered Robles to pay the $15,000 in $20, $10 and $5 bills and instructed him to drive along an outlying road until he received a signal, then toss the money out and keep going. He was to continue the routine on successive nights if the signal was not given at first. The note added it might be two or three days between receipt of the ransom and the release of his daughter.

Because of the army of searchers abroad last night Robles made no atempt to follow out the instructions.

Barney Kengla, 6-year-old cousin of June, who was walking home behind her, described to police how the abductor's automobile drove up beside the girl and how she entered it.

Barney said a "little black car" stopped alongside the girl and the driver called to June who went over to the machine. The boy said he watched the girl get in and the automobile drive away.

TRIBUNE PLANT BADLY DAMAGED

all morning by electricians and shortly after noon was in condition to turn the press.

The early edition came off all right but all hands feared the motor would play out and arrangements were made to dash to Kearney with the stereotype plates if the motor fails. There the paper could be run off on the Hub press.

Ready With Stories.

Hand type and a linotype of the Hastings Democrat, a weekly, made possible publication of a 10-page paper. The news staff prepared stories shortly after midnight and thus was ready with copy when the lone linotype was ready.

The fire damage was confined largely to the walls and floors of the building in sections where little machinery was located, but the water and smoke damage was serious throughout. The stairways had to be patched. The origin of the blaze was undetermined. No one was hurt.

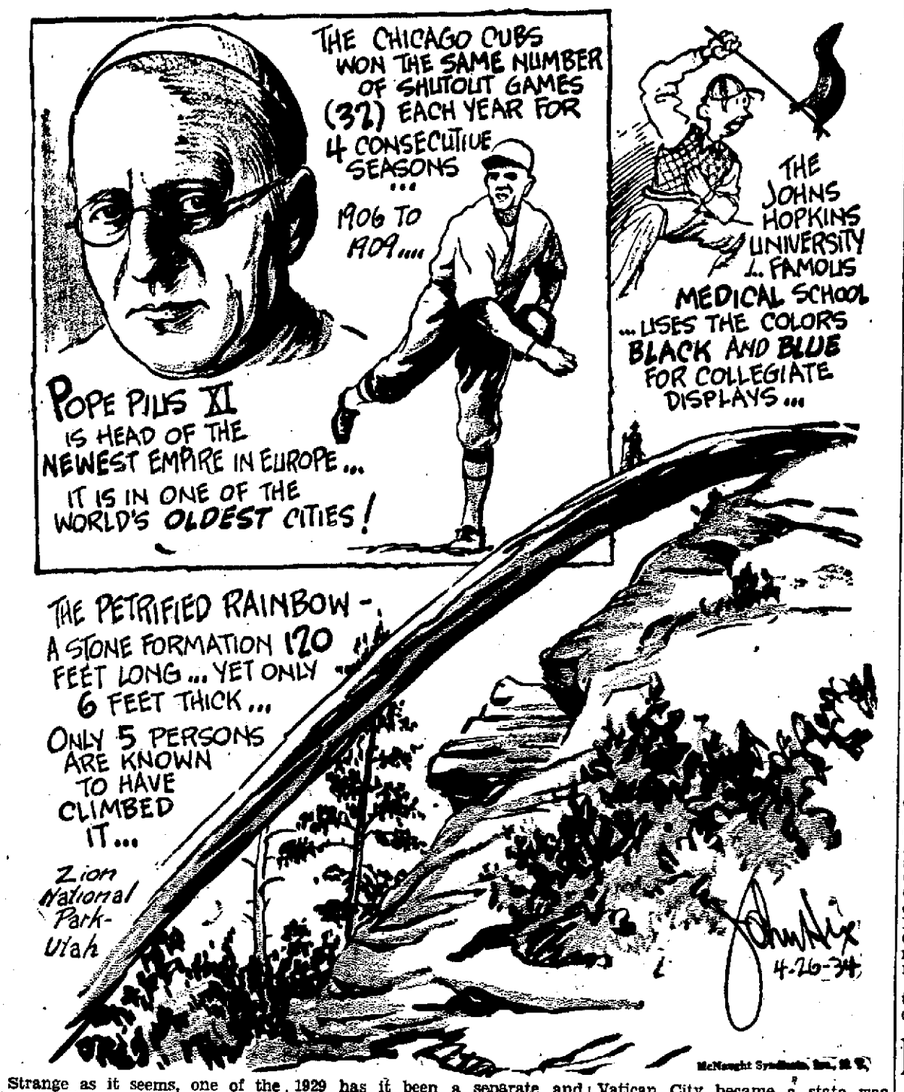

The fire was discovered by employes working in the building about 10 p. m., and spread through the structure in about 10 minutes, apparently starting in the rear on the first floor or basement.

The Hastings fire department is across the street from the Tribune building, and little time was lost in getting started to fighting the blaze, but the flames seemed to surge to the roof in only a few minutes.

The front of the building was not damaged to so great an extent. The building was owned by A. H. Jones and was about 40 years old.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS— By John Hix

For further proof address the author, inclosing a stamped envelope for reply. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Strange as it seems, one of the oldest cities in Europe includes within its confines another old city—and this latter old city is the newest empire of Europe. It is the Vatican City in Rome. Officially, since the treaty with Italy in 1929, it is the State of Vatican City.

Rome, the "Eternal City," became the home of the Pope in the fifth century when Pope Symmachus built his residence on grounds that were once occupied by the gardens of Nero. The Vatican City has long been a part of Rome, and only since 1929 has it been a separate and distinct state.

The Papal empire covers an area of 108 acres. It has a population of a little over 1,000 persons, of whom about two-thirds are citizens, the rest being "aliens." The state likewise has its own flag, its own newspaper printed on its own press, its own coinage (struck in an Italian government mint), its own army, police law courts, and jail.

It handles its own prosecutions of criminal cases. The first case to go to trial in the Papal court after the Vatican City became a state was that of a young boy against whom authorities pressed a charge of petty theft. He had been caught pilfering a poor box. Tried in a Papal court he was found guilty and sentenced to three months in jail, a term which he served in the Vatican.

The Vatican City also has its own communications—a postoffice, telephone system, telegraph and wireless.

Tomorrow: A story of the north.

Precipitation Is Only .35 Inches In April; Is Driest Since 1926

This has been one of the driest Aprils in the history of the Lincoln weather bureau.

Up to Thursday, only .35 of an inch moisture have been recorded during the month. The dryest April on record occurred in 1890 when only .33 of an inch moisture was recorded. As recently as 1926 however, the all time record was threatened when .36 of an inch was received.

All rain received so far in April fell during the first five days of the month with the exception of a trace of moisture April 15. There is a deficiency below normal of 1.54 inches so far this month.

In March, .80 of an inch moisture was recorded. The normal for the month is 1.27 inches. The dryest March on record occured in 1929 when only .06 of an inch was received.

S. L. Fee Appointed Burlington Division Head at Aurora, Ill.

Word has been received in Lincoln of the appointment of S. L. Fee, former superintendent of the Lincoln division of the Burlington, as superintendent of the Aurora and La Crosse division of the road, with headquarters at Aurora, Ill.

Mr. Fee had been acting superintendent of the division since October 1, 1933. He came to Lincoln from Alliance on May 1, 1932 and was superintendent here until January 3, 1933, when he was transferred to Wymore as assistant superintendent.

Weatherly Renamed As President Of Social Service Club

A. L. Weatherly was re-elected president Thursday of the Social Service club at the last of the club's series of winter meetings at the university club.

Mrs. Ellery Davis was re-elected first vice president and Dr. J. M. Reinhardt was named second vice president. A. E. Wolf was named secretary for another term and Dr. M. F. Arnholt was elected treasurer.

Members of the board for the coming year include the above officers and Judge Lincoln Frost, Dr. J. O. Hertzler, E. M. Bair, Dr. B. F. Williams, Miss Margaret Anderson, Dr. J. J. Hompes and Miss Harriett Towne. A committee of three, Dr. Hertzler, Louis Horne and Miss Towne, was named to arrange a program schedule for next fall.

Dr. Arnholt addressed the group Thursday on the subject of public health. "There are two types of work with which the health department concerns itself in Lincoln," he said. "One is preventive medicine, the other to curative. I hope to see the day when we can concentrate exclusively on prevention, the real public health problem."

Dr. Arnholt expressed satisfaction over the change in the health department," he said. "I think we will make rapid strides forward."

Pneumonia Following Blaze From Cigaret Is Fatal to Woman

OMAHA, April 26—(AP)—Pneumonia which set in after she had been overcome by smoke from bedclothes which had been set afire by a cigaret she had been smoking, resulted in the death of Mrs. Irene Dodendorf, 27, at a local hospital. Mrs. Dodendorf was smoking in bed Sunday night. As she fell asleep the bedding caught fire, burning her arm from elbow to hand, and filling the room with smoke. She was taken to a hospital Monday and died Wednesday.

BULLET SHIELDS FOR POLICE CARS

Fleming Plans To Buy New Glass For Cruisers.

Immediate purchase of bullet-proof windshields for the police department automobiles is contemplated by Mayor Fenton B. Fleming, he said Thursday. He has asked City Engineer D. L. Erickson to prepare an estimate of cost. Purchase now is contingent, however, upon payment being deferred until after funds from a new appropriation become available, September 1, the mayor added, if the apparent deficit in the department funds is not to be materially increased.

"With gangsters drifting from the larger cities into the smaller centers of the middlewest the need of bullet-proof shields is becoming greater every day," mayor declared. "The shatter-proof glass now on the police cars is wholly inadequate to the needs. When Officers Frank Robbins and Volcott Condit were chasing three desperadoes east on O street last Friday there was not a second when they were not in danger of being hit with a bullet from one of the bandit guns."

Investigations made by the mayor and Police Chief Condit indicate that the bullet-proof shields will cost about $70 each, or approximately $700 to equip the cars being used by the police. The glass, the mayor said, would be 1 1-8 inches thick, and provided with port holes through which a rifle or pistol could be projected and used freely by the officer. A covering would drop over the port-holes when not in use.

According to the mayor, he has been receiving many telephone calls asking why bullet-proof glass is not placed on police cars.

CLERGY PAYS FINAL TRIBUTE TO REV. CARAHER

them to understand. But even then one betrayed Him, another denied Him and a third demanded proof of His resurrection. From the day the Blessed Saviour chose the apostles, we have seen the manifestations of Christ to his church. We wonder, in considering the powers that Christ conferred on His priests, why He did not choose angels.

The burden of the priesthood may be summed up in one sentence. 'Love one another even as I have loved you.' Christ spoke these words in his dissertation to the apostles on the way to Gethsemane. The priesthood is the most extraordinary and strangest order in the world. There is nothing in all creation that equals it. Let us remember this morning that the priest is called on to forego many of the pleasures of the world. By the nature of his vocation, his is often a lonely heart. He trembles at the powers that God has given him in ministering to His people. Let us pray to God in His mercy to consider the many weaknesses to which we as priests are prone and that we may be worthy of the church which He founded."

Credits Priests' Friendliness.

Msgr. O'Loughlin pointed out that "here in the United States there is no persecution such as has sprung up in other countries. There is no strife within or without the church. Aside from divine province this is due, I believe, to the friendly relationship between the priests and the people.

Rev. Caraher's body was brought to Lincoln Wednesday evening following solemn requiem mass at Heartwell, and lay in state at the cathedral until time for services.

Assisting Bishop Kucera Thursday morning were the Very Rev. Adolph M. Moshler, V. G., as archpriest; the Very Rev. Francis O'Brien, the Very Rev. James F. Gilroy and Rev. Joseph A. Ress as deacons of honor; Rev. Bernard J. Haskamp, sub-deacon; and Rev. Clarence J. Riordan and Rev. Morris W. Heilmann, masters of ceremonies.

The entire group of clergy attended the burial service in Calvary cemetery.

NEW SOLUTION LINCOLN BANK HOLDUP HINTED

criminal group either now under arrest or under suveillance.

County Attoney Rax G. Towle, when questioned concerning this latest development admitted that a federal agent attempted to get in touch with him here a short time after LaRue's arest, but the county attorney was out of town at the time, he said. Towle was emphatic in his declaration that in his opinion the federal agents have discovered nothing which might prove the innocence of Thomas Pat O'Connor and Howard "Pop" Lee, both serving 25 years in the penitentiary as convicted participants in the Lincoln National looting.

Don Gallagher, who defended O'Connor, declined to discuss the matter beyond admitting thtt he had been interviewed here recently by department of justice operatives. Lum R. Doyle, attorney for Lee and Jack Britt, who was released after two juries failed to agree on a verdict, likewise was non-communicative. Both, however, reiterated their belief in the innocence of O'Connor and Lee.

From various sources, it was learned that department of justice agents have exhibited to witnesses of the bank robbery photographs of a number of men whom the federal agents claim to have linked definitely with the crime. Whether the witnesses identified the photographs as those of the gangsters could not be learned. Officials of the looted bank also have been questioned at different times within the past few weeks as the investigators pushed their secret activities forward.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . . Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. They should pour out thru the bladder 3 pints of fluid a day which contains 4 pounds of waste matter.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS . . . a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes. Your common sense will tell you that this is impossible. Treatments of this nature may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS . . . the old reliable relief that contain no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

Painters Ask Changes In Sign Ordinance

A proposed amendment to the ordinance regulating the construction and hanging of signs is being prepared by Lincoln sign painters and will be presented to the city council for approval. All fees, except for roof and projecting signs, for which $1 would be charged, would be eliminated by the amendment, a committee representing the signmen told Deputy City Attorney Lloyd Chapman Wednesday afternoon. A permit for every sign would be required, however. The proposed ordinance also will contain a provision for a registration fee of $25, and a renewal charge of $1.

Indians of the northwest followed the lead of Navajos in the southwest, discarding the old tribal sheep-herd system for individual ownership.

AAA Bureau Chief Confers With Brokaw

Fred Henshaw, chief of the field information section of the AAA in Washington, said late Wednesday that the corn-hog plan is as far along in Nebraska as in other middle-western states. Henshaw was here to confer with W. H. Brokaw, state administrator on developments of the program.

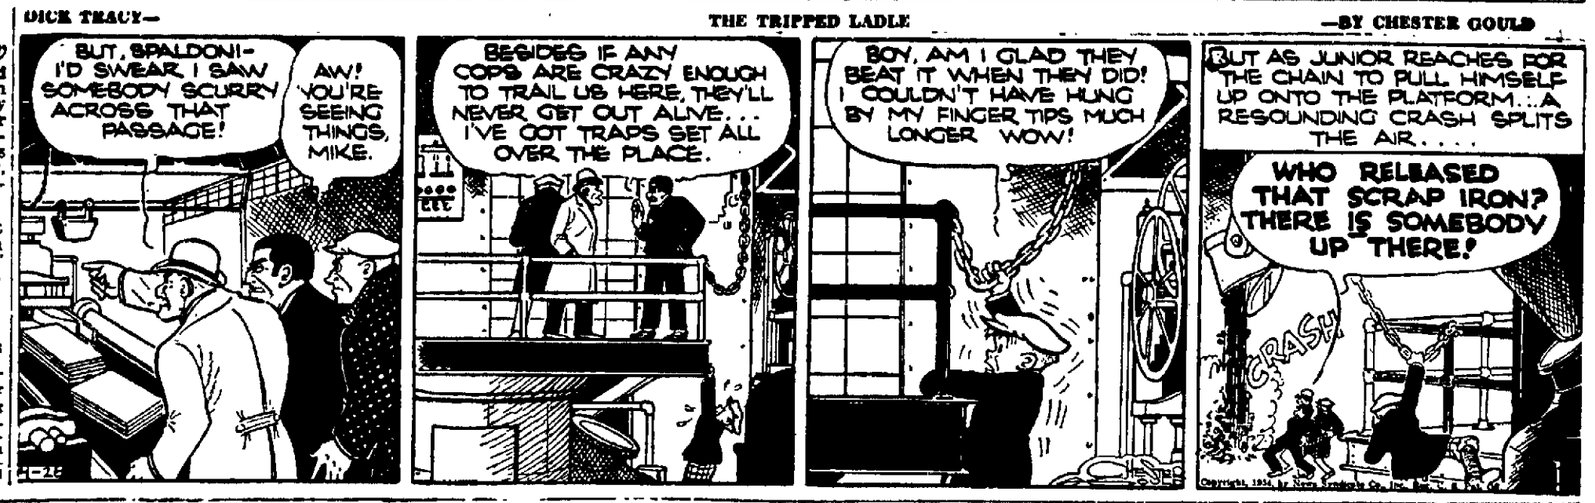

Note a prophecy: The next great victory at the polls will be won with the slogan, "Back to liberty."

Poverty Catches Up With Dempsey's ex-Pilot

Jack Kearns In Court As Bankrupt; Unable to Pay Tailor's Bill

LOS ANGELES, April 26—(INS)—Lady Luck and Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey, were traveling in opposite directions today. Mayor Frank L. Shaw signed an ordinance prohibiting "walkathons" in Los Angeles—and Kearns is one of the promoters of a "walkathon" at an ice-skating rink.

Share of Mickey Sole Asset.

Testifying in court anent his inability to pay a judgment of $1,166 against him for seven suits of clothes, Kearns said he "had no car, no real estate, no bank account, no jewelry; I live with my mother, and the 'walkathon,' in which I have a one-fourth interest is $18,000 in the hole."

His sole asset, Kearns said, is a one-quarter interest in the earnings of Mickey Walker, a pugilist.

Alvo Hi Pounces On Bluebird Pitchers

ALVO, Neb., April 26—Hammering the offerings of two Cathedral pitchers for 11 runs in six innings, Alvo achieved its second conquest over a Capital City nine in as many days when the home club walloped Father Obrist's baseballers, 11-2, here Wednesday afternoon.

Taking advantage of Garcia's wildness in the first two frames, the Lincoln clan took a two-run lead, only to fall behind in the second inning when Cook's double drove home two runs to cap a four-run rally. Alvo added another quarter of counters in the fifth on five hits.

Cook, with three hits, led Alvo's hitting attack, while Skinner, who relieved Garcia in the third stanza, struck out 10 batters and allowed no hits. By innings:

SUTTON, Neb., April 26—The Sutton Tennis club is anxious to book matches for the season. Due to poor early season courts, the Sutton players would like to date their early matches away from home. Milton Anderson, Box 205, is secretary of the Sutton club.

Huskers Selected To Run at Drake

Seventeen athletes will be included in the University of Nebraska party competing in the Drake relays at Des Moines this week-end.

With Heye Lambertus, crack hurdler and sprinter, on the injured list, Schulte does not anticipate that his Huskers will make a much better showing than they did at the Kansas carnival last Saturday. Lambertus has a lame leg and will not run the century, but will confine his attention to the anchor spot on the sprint relays. The Nebraska entry list:

Quarter-mile and half-mile relays—Lambertus, Jacobsen, Cockburn, Humpal. Mile relay—Roberts, England, Humpal, Jacobsen. Two and four-mile relay—White, Ayres, Story, Funk. Medley relay—England, Ayres, Story, Funk. 100 yards—Jacobsen. High hurdles—Dohrmann. Vault—Dean, Cosgrove. Broad jump—Cockburn. Humpal. High jump—Toman. Shot and discus—Rist. Javelin—Chambers, Reese.

CARNERA'S PILOT ANXIOUS TO SELL

Soresi Seeking Buyer For His Interest In World Champion Fighter.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, April 26—(INS)—Gangland, weary of an investment that somehow cannot be made to pay its own upkeep, is trying to sell its share of Primo Carnera the heavyweight champion.

Louis Soresi, the banker who set out to help Carnera and wound up by helping himself, also is seeking a quick profit and will take any reasonable offer, his idea of same being $125,000.

The gentleman's mind runs that way. He's been sitting around a bank too long and vast sums simply do not impress him. He just has hardening of the numerals and the only thing against this is that there are times when one is liable to have softening of the stomach. Carnera, a voluntary bankrupt, hasn't made trolley fare in the last two years.

With the Baer fight and probably a half-million dollar gate coming up in June, this eagerness to part with a fighter who is about to move in on the major share of that money may seem a little strange. It might even seem as though they expected him to lose, only that couldn't be. These boys are not bright enough to think of anything like that.

In Need of "Ready Money."

They simply need a little "ready" and are willing to forsake the now dubious privilege of managing a champion in order to keep abreast of the landlord and the sheriff.

Mr. Soresi was the first to think about it. He offered his holdings, about 25 per cent, to a celebrated newspaperman for $125,000. The latter did not become agitated or violent; he did not call in the authorities and give Mr. Soresi in charge. He merely led Mr. Soresi over into the shade and spoke to him soothingly until certain that he had recovered his composure. Then the newspaperman left, some say a little abruptly. He probably had remembered another engagement.

Partners Also Willing to Sell.

The next prospect likewise was cold to Soresi's blandishments so he went to his underworld associates, the holders of the rest of the Carnera shares, namely, Will Duffy, who seems in the meantime to have gone away for a rest, following a little misunderstanding with the government; 'Good-time Charley" Friedman, Ownie Madden and the famous or otherwise "Big Frenchy." Would they like to buy out Mr. Soresi for $125,000? It seemed that they would not.

However, on their side, they would be glad to sell their interests to Mr. Soresi. Would he like to buy? That was a new thought entirely and it must have left him completely unnerved, for he thereupon agreed to buy their holdings for $150,000. However, at the psychological moment, there was a slight impediment, a technicality. Mr. Soresi, it seemed, would buy the fighter for $150,000 just as soon as he found the $150,000.

Meantime, he's out somewhere looking either for a buyer with $125,000 or a philanthropist with $150,000. As for the others, I'm beginning to wonder whether they aren't looking for Mr. Soresi.

IT SEEMS to this column that Director of Athletics "Doc" Allen of K. U. muffed one of those "golden opportunity" things at the time of the annual Kansas relays, staged last week at Lawrence.

As is the practice in connection with his relays carnivals, the good old doctor slipped into the program a series of special track and field events as side issues to the main show.

Quite naturally, the Kansas management featured the special mile race, in which Glenn Cunningham showed so many heels to Gene Venzke, Penn U. flyer, that the latter was trailing by 50 feet when the Kansas farmer boy breasted the yarn.

But the incident which seems so odd to us is the fact that as ingenious a soul as the doctor overlooked the entry of Heye Lambertus, Nebraska's star performer over the 220-low hurdles and national A. A. U. champion in that event.

A low hurdles race, featuring the Cornhusker athlete, would have added something genuinely worth while to the K. U. program. Nevertheless, the Kansas director said not a word on the subject of taking advantage of Lambertus' unquestioned class in his pet event.

THE doctor, as a matter of fact, merely needed to borrow a leaf from the book of the Oklahoma U. management, which staged an early-April meet at Norman and listed on the program a special low hurdle race at 120 yards. After which the Husker speedster proceeded to slice two-tenths of a second from the recognized world record for that distance.

Meantime, the Drake U. management, in arranging for its relays carnival next Saturday at Des Moines, is plenty aggressive, also alert. From Drake sources comes the suggestion that Lambertus be pitted against Glenn "Slats" Hardin, the Louisiana State flyer who won the lows at the N. C. A. C. meet last summer at Chicago, in a special race at 220 yards.

Unfortunately for Lambertus, the Nebraska hurdler wrenched a hip in one of the sprints at Lawrence last week, wherefore he is not in condition at the present for a bruising duel with the Dixie marvel.

All of which means that Coach Schulte is compelled to disapprove the Drake proposal. His chief purpose is to nurse Lambertus along, in the hope that he may have his crack Cornhusker hurdler in prime trim for the Big Six track and field championships, dated for May 19 in Lincoln.

IT APPEARS that the grunters and groaners of the heavyweight wrestling industry have declared themselves part and parcel of a "new deal." The mighty men of the muscle racket have been carrying on a factional war for the past several years, each clique having its own "champion," but the word has leaked from sources on the inside that all knives have been sheathed and an agreement entered into which makes for sweet peace all along the battlefront.

As it comes to me, Jack Curley is to be the head man in New York City, Bowser in Boston, Ed White in Chicago, Tom Packs in St. Louis and Lou Daro in Los Angeles, the combination working together for the common purpose of raking in the most in dollars at the well known and highly essential B. O.

Promoters in other cities having the proper credentials will be taken under the protecting wing of the new combination, provided, of course, that they conduct their bouts in strict accord with commands from headquarters.

THE latter arrangement, I suspect, specifies that such an upstart as John Pesek, Nebraska tigerman, shall be kept in his place. It seems that the grappler who headquarters in the Cornhusker state is none too popular with the rassling cliquesters.

He claims the world championship for himself, standing ready to prove his right to the title by jousting with any or all of the "trust's" pets, come who may.

Unfortunately for the tigerman and his aspirations to gain world recognition, he has a provoking habit of "shooting the works," which makes him about as popular with the combination fellows as a sore thumb.

The "trust's" answer to Pesek, at least during late years, has been to ignore him, wherefore the tigerman, seldom having the opportunity to perform on a padded mat, has been whiling most of his time breeding and racing his prize-grabbing hounds.

MEANTIME, the "new dealers" in rassling are making much noise over what they have elected to describe as a "world championship" tussle in which Jim Londos, the Greek Adonis, is to be pitted against Jeems Browning, late of Missouri.

Londos and Browning have been rival claimants of the so-called championship and the plan to send them into action, one against the other, is confirmation of the statement that the two "trust" factions have settled their quarrel and decided to test the novelty of having a single "champion."

The accepted scheme, according to all appearances, is to stage the Londos-Browning rumpus in New York City early in July, under the joint promotion of Madison Square Garden and Genial Jack Curley—and when I say "genial," I mean exactly that. In private life, the Curley fellow is one great guy. The only sour thought I hold in connection with him is that it is evident he is tied up with the combination in rassling.

With Curley in command of the arrangements, it is easy to predict that the Browning-Londos brawl will go over with a loud bang. It was the same Curley who sponsored and promoted the famous Gotch-Hackenschmidt bout at Chicago in 1911—an event which smashed all box office records in the annals of wrestling.

JABBERING JIM HAS NEW WORRY

Principals in June Fight Delayed In Showing Up For Training.

NEW YORK, April 26—(AP)—The whereabouts and plans of Maximilian Adelbert Baer, who is about as easy to catch up with as John Dillinger, are no longer a mystery to Madison Square Garden.

It cost something over $20 in long distance calls to track down the leather-lugging Lothario in Des Moines, Ia., and relieve the blood pressure that was starting Jimmy Johnston's safety valve to popping. Baer was due here two days ago. The Garden's boxing manager hadn't heard from him since he signed to fight Primo Carnera for the heavyweight championship here June 14.

Johnston discovered from the conversation that Baer will arrive here next Monday; that he is in fine condition and will choose a training camp from sites that have been offered him at Atlantic City and Asbury Park, N. J., Speculator and Saratoga, N. Y.

"You'd better get in good shape," Johnston shouted over the telephone. "That Carnera's up in the Maine woods working hard."

Still a Busy Boaster.

"He might just as well save his strength," Baer yelled back. "I'm going to smack him flatter'n a table cloth in about five rounds."

After suggesting diplomatically that the busier Baer kept on his trans-continental exhibition tour, the less likely he was to get into mischief, Johnston hung up.

"Now," he sighed, "all I've got to find out is if that Carnera really is working up in Maine, and if he's there at all. He was due back here a couple of days ago, too. This business gets tougher all the time."

Both Jimmy McLarnin and Barney Ross likewise are scheduled to reach New York next week to start training for a 15-round match in the Garden bowl May 28 that rivals the interest in the heavyweight title match.

It will be the first meeting of a welterweight and lightweight champion since Jack Britton won from Benny Leonard on a foul in 13 rounds at the old Velodrome in 1922. No lightweight champion ever has held both titles at the same time.

Odds quoted today made McLarnin a slight favorite at 11 to 10, with the betting commissioners predicting that more money will be wagered on this match than any among the smaller men since the famed Leonard-Tendler matches.

Stoefen Hard Put To Win Over Hall

HOT SPRINGS, Va., April 26—(INS)—Three American Davis cup players and a former Davis cup star—Frank X. Shields of New York, Lester R. Stoefen of Los Angeles, Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex., and John Van Ryn of Philadelphia—were ready to compete in the semi-finals of the men's singles in the annual Virginia state tennis tournament today.

Shields, top-ranking American and winner of the singles championships at White Sulphur Springs and Pinehurst recently, advanced yesterday by winning a second round encounter from George Reilly of Harrisburg, Pa., 6-3, 6-3, and a quarter-final match from Walter Martin of Toronto, No. 1 on the Canadian Davis cup squad, 6-1, 6-4.

The giant Stoefen was extended to defeat J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., 7-5, 7-5, in the quarter-finals, while Van Ryn overcame Edward Fuller of Salem, Mass., 9-7, 7-5.

Allison swept through his match with Charles Lockhart of Pittsburgh, 6-3, 6-2.

In the women's singles, Jane Sharp of Pasadena, Calif., entered the semi-finals with a victory over Eliza Coxe of Asheville, N. C., 6-3, 6-4. Mrs. John Van Ryn joined Miss Sharp in the bracket of four by conquering Josephine Gray of Cincinnati, 6-0, 6-1, after taking a second round match from Mrs. Barger Wallach of New York, 6-0, 6-0.

Cunningham's Record In Line for Approval

PARIS, April 26—(INS)—Officials of the International Amateur Athletic federation today admitted that if American authorities rushed the details of Glenn Cunningham's 1,000-yard record, the Kansas runner's mark might be submitted to the August congress of the federation at Stockholm for ratification as an official world record.

As it stands, however Cunningham's mark of 2:11:1 is not among 17 to be submitted for official approval, since it was set too late for consideration here. Of the 17 submitted, nine are American.

They include Ben Eastman's 600-yard record of 109:2; Walter Marty's high jump of 6 feet, 8⅝ inches; Bill Graber's pole voult of 14 feet, 4⅜ inches, and Leo Sexton's shot put of 53 feet, ½ inch. These marks all would be new records, if accepted.

Weston Loser In 3-Cushion Match

"Cowboy" Weston, expert billiardist from Chicago who is conducting free lessons in the cue sport at three local parlors in Lincoln, collided with unexpected opposition in a special three-cushion match Wednesday afternoon at the National Recreation Parlors.

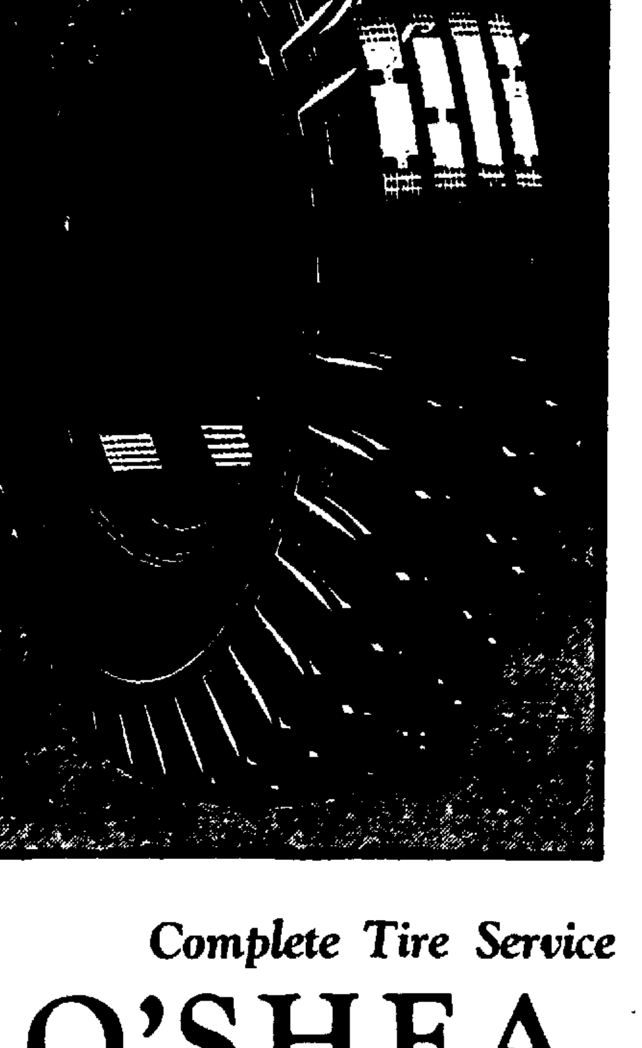

Weston crossed cues with Carl Wise, member of Lincoln's police force, and finished on the short end of a 50-33 score. Wise was hot as a furnace, making shots from all possible angles and winning from Weston the comment that the local officer could make his mark anywhere at the three-cushion game.

In his evening performance, also at the National, the "Cowboy" was matched against Walt Heagy, Frank Brochu and A. E. Dunlin in three duels at pocket billiards. Weston won all three matches by lop-sided scores, once reeling off a run of 90, his burst being stopped by an unlucky scratch.

Weston was performing Thursday in special matches at Wood's Tenth street parlors, meeting local players both afternoon and evening.

U.S.ROYALS

built with TEMPERED RUBBER the Outstanding Tire Value

Unbiased statistics show conclusively that tire prices have not kept pace with the increased cost of labor and materials.

Probably not in many seasons will you be able to get so much extra tire value for so little difference in price.

U. S. ROYALS actually cost less today than inferior brands and grades did a short time ago. Certainly the truly thrifty buyer will save the "wise way" and get more for his money!

Cubs of Chicago Still Unbeaten

Bruins Breeze Along In Chase of Pennant With String 7 Wins

BY GENE LAWRENCE.

NEW YORK, April 26—(INS)—Ol' Goddess Luck today was responsible for the Chicago Cubs' winning streak remaining intact at seven straight more so than because of excellent playing. Apparently seized with "fumbleitis," the pennant pretenders did their utmost to toss the game into the laps of the Cincinnati Reds, making three errors afield, but thanks to Pat Malone's six-hit performance and Bill Jurges' homer, combined with five errors by the benevolent Reds, the Chicago team finally won, 6-1.

"Sunny Jim" Sad Offender.

"Sunny" Jim Bottomley aided the Chicago cause when he chipped in with three bobbles, an unusual performance for the steady and dependable first-baseman.

However, the victory has been chalked up in the record books, breaks or no breaks, and the Cubs today have gained more ground on the Giants and Pirates, who were idle, and the Brooklyn Dodgers, who were beaten yesterday. Cold weather forced a postponement of the Cards' game at Pittsburgh and the Giants' game at Philadelphia.

Rolling up 12 hits, the Boston Braves moved nearer to the top in the National league standings, spanking the Dodgers, 9 to 4. Hal Lee's homer behind the eight-hit twirling of Pickrel, Mangum and Cantwell stopped the Dodgers. Mungo, Herring and Page saw mound service for the losers.

Yanks Turn Back Athletics.

Danny MacFayden turned in a good performance, pitching the New York Yankees to a 3-2 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics in the American league. Although he granted eight hits, the bespectacled Danny kept them well separated to outlast a rookie, Al Benton, in a pitching duel.

Benton worked like a seasoned major leaguer, allowing two runs and four hits in seven innings before he was taken out in the eighth for a pinch-hitter. Bob Kline finished, granting two hits in the remaining frames.

A ninth-inning rally that accounted for the winning run gave the Chicago White Sox a 3-2 triumph over the Detroit Tigers and their second victory of the season. The Chicagoans rolled up eight hits off Auker, Frasier and Marberry, while Jones and Wyatt held the Tigers to six.

The St. Louis Browns bowed, 5-1, to the Cleveland Indians for the second time in succession. Timely hitting and three St. Louis errors won for the Indians.

The Boston Red Sox and Washington Senators were idle because of the cold weather.

PHENOM HURLER TEAM MAINSTAY

One-Armed Pitcher Peels Off Record of Three Shutout Wins.

COLLEGE PARK, Md., April 26—(AP)—He has only one arm, but Ralph Ruble, ace pitcher for the University of Maryland, asks no odds. Rather, he is able to give a few.

He has trounced the three teams he has pitched against this season—all via the shutout method—pitched 28 scoreless innings, struck out 22 batsmen, and is leading his team in batting with an average of .367.

Ruble is a senior and is from Poolesville, Md. He was born with his handicap—his left arm withered at the wrist. Playmates who might have wondered about his ability soon were swinging at empty air when he pitched against them, and when it came to batting, he had them chasing all over the lot.

Mainstay of His Team.

He has followed up his success at the University of Maryland and is now the mainstay of Coach Burton Shipley and a thorn in the side of opposing teams.

He wields his glove on his left arm. When a ball comes along, he stops it with this lame arm, then snatches it up with his good right. At the bat, he uses his left to rest his bat on and when the ball sails across the plate he cracks it with his right.

The Virginia teams he has pitched against can best testify to his effectiveness as a pitcher. The University of Virginia went down twice before him, 3 to 0 (10 innings), and 8 to 0. Washington & Lee fell, 9 to 0.

Out of the 28 scoreless innings he has pitched, there have been only 14 hits. They were so well scattered that they went for naught.

NEW CALLAWAY FIELD.

CALLAWAY—Funds from CWA and FERA have enabled Callaway high to revamp its athletic field, long the scene of the Seven Valleys track and field championships. Changes include re-surfacing of the field, leveling of the track and moving the grandstand.

The Seven Valleys meet Friday promises to draw a large field. Ansley is defending champion in the senior group and Anselmo in the junior group. Other leaders this year include Newport, Mason City, Miller and Hastings, if the latter team makes the trip.

GOOD MARKS IN MEET.

FULLERTON—Fullerton high scored 52½ points to win a quadrangular meet last week. Albion scored 41 points, St. Edward counted 40 and Genoa scored 20¼. Frank, St. Edward, led the individual scoring with 22¾ points. Leading performances include Denny, Fullerton, 5 feet 7 inches in high jump; Irwin, Genoa, 10 5-10 seconds in century and 23 6-10 seconds in furlong; Gates, Genoa, 5 minutes 10 5-10 seconds 16 8-10 seconds in half-mile; Frank, St. Edward, 8 3-10 seconds in high and 12 8-10 seconds in lows; Fullerton quarter-mile relay team, 47 4-10 seconds.

Clarks will be host to 14 high schools, four 10-grade high schools and 21 rural schools in a three-group track meet here May 1.

BUSY WEEK FOR HIGH TRACKMEN

Prep Athletes Bidding to Qualify For State Meet May 12.

BY GREGG McBRIDE.

Nebraska high school track athletes will apply themselves this week-end to the task of qualifying for the state championships to be held at the University of Nebraska Memorial stadium in Lincoln, Saturday, May 12. The lads have two weeks in which to win their spurs for the state competition, and athletes failing to land in the charmed circle this week will take another whirl at qualifying next week-end.

Among the important meets on the Friday book is the Western Nebraska conference championships at Scottsbluff. Bayard high, winner of the Scottsbluff relays, is the favorite, with Alliance figured to provide the most opposition and Mitchell, Scottsbluff or Sidney to step in if the leaders falter.

Eastern Nebraska teams will direct most attention toward the Omaha North and Doane college invitation meets. North, Central, Tech, South, Benson and possibly Bellevue, Eastern Nebraska league champion, will compete in the Viking invitation, while Crete, Beatrice and Hastings will be the leading contenders in the Doane carnival. Endicott looks like a favorite in the class B division of the Crete meet.

Southwest Conference.

Southwest Nebraska conference teams, nine in number, will assemble at Gothenburg. North Platte, strong on the cinders, is the defending champion, but it would not be surprising if Gothenburg, led by Dodd and Trimble, would pick up enough points in the field events to win the meet. Dodd is defending record-holder in the broad jump and he will also bid for a pole vault record. Trumble, Cambridge; Gustafson, Holdrege; Florem and Nelson, Hurtsi, are other outstanding athletes of the meet.

New champions appear due to be crowned in the Seven Valleys meet at Callaway, always a red-letter event on the prep calendar. Ansley hardly has the strength to repeat in class A and Anselmo class B champ, didn't show much in the way of a scoring punch at the Wrangler relays last week. Hastings, if the Tigermen make the trip, should take class A, while Newport, Mason City and Miller are favored in the lower division.

Giltner Defending Champ.

Giltner is the defending champion in the fifth annua Central Nebraska conference meet at Hampton, while St. Edward, Fullerton and Genoa will be among the main contenders in the Pla-Loup contest at St. Edward.

Crack teams of the northeast will enter the Norfolk invitation meet, with the hometown Panekmen given the edge. Dixon county teams will gather at Wakefield, Knox county competition will be under way at Santee and the Cherry county meet is at Valentine.

Other important meets include Little Blue at Goehner, Northwest conference at Crawford; Wheeler county relays at Bartlett, Bassett invitation, Republican Valley at Benkelman and Perkins county at Madrid.

FALLS CITY—Nebraska City's 1-0 victory over Peru featured the opening day program in Nemaha Valley league circles. Johnson nipped Auburn, 3-2, and Burr hammered out a 10-0 win at Dunbar.

VERDON WALLOPS STELLA.

VERDON—Verdon high walloped Stella Sunday, 19-7. Verdon pounded out 20 hits.

NEW DEAL SEASON OPENS.

SWANTON—The New Deal Baseball league will open its season next Sunday, with Plymouth at Odell, Swanton at Dewitt and Diller at Clatonia.

DENTON BEATS ROKEBY.

DENTON, Neb., April 26—Denton high beat Rokeby in an exciting game Wednesday, 12-10. The hitting of Schrader of Rokeby and Scott of Denton featured. Score:

Rokeby .. .. 0 2 0 2 4 0 2—10 9 4
Denton .. .. 0 3 0 4 2 3 x—12 10 4

Schrader, Lee and Smith; Miller, Scott and C. Ketterer.

GOLDEN ROD OPENING.

BEATRICE, Neb., April 26—Beatrice Lutherans, 1932 pennant winners, opened the 1934 Golden Rod league pennant race with a 13-2 victory over the Lowlanders. White City beat Plymouth, 17-8 and Hoag nipped the Highlanders, 7-5.

Lincoln Boxer Dated Mix In Main Event

HARDY, Neb., April 26—Harold Matthews, Lincoln's mighty mite, will meet Jackie Daniels of Omaha in the six-round main event of the Hardy American Legion fight card here Tuesday night, May 1. Other bouts on the program include a six-rounder between Glen Lee of Edison and Billy Koons of Red Cloud and a four-rounder involving Don Deegan, Fairbury, and Lew Ritchie, Lincoln.

Amateur bouts on the same card are John Smith, Superior, vs. Frank Cook, Fairbury; Donald Smith, Republic, Kas., vs. Boy Lee, Edison; Keith Walker, Hardy, vs. Luther Johnson, Fairbury.

With Walker Team.

JOHN W. FISCHER

Johnny Fischer, tall and spare golfer-son of a Cincinnati letter carrier, typifies the slugging younger generation of American linksmen. With all his power and remarkable distance, the fair-haired, gangling youth possesses amazing accuracy, and the combination of these assets should prove profitable next month when he plays in Scotland with the American team against a golf contingent of Britons in the international Walker cup competition.

Elks In Tourney On Links At Antelope

The Elks club will sponsor a members' golf tournament this spring. According to Frank Mulqueeney, Antelope club pro and chairman of the athletic committee. The meet will be a handicap affair and players must turn in two cards at the Antelope club or Elks club to obtain their handicaps.

PACKERS TO PLAY ON YORK DIAMOND

OMAHA, April 26—(AP)—Frank (Dutch) Wetzel, boss of the Omaha Western league baseball club, will leave here today for Beatrice, Neb., where the Packers will start training Friday.

Wetzel announced that he had arranged for the Omaha club to play an exhibition game at York, Neb., on May 2, with the York town team. Wetzel broke into professional baseball at York in 1915.

LINCOLN SQUAD IN FIRST DRILL

Candidates For Griffin's Club Worked Out At Landis Field.

BY "CY" SHERMAN.

Young ball players from here, there and everywhere on the U. S. map—55 of 'em, all told — were hammering and tossing the Reach pellet Wednesday afternoon at Landis Field in the first spring practice staged by candidates for Lincoln's State league aggregation.

Club Owner Griffin and Team Manager Cy Lingle kept things humming during a three-hour workout and were prepered Thursday to inspect numerous additions to the squad.

By the end of the week, when the new sod diamond is in condition for actual baseball, the candidates will be sorted over and divided into teams for pitching, batting and fielding drills.

A half dozen youngsters from San Diego, Calif., fresh from a season of winter ball on the western coast, are expected to join the Lincoln squad within the next day or two and advance information, forwarded to Griffin, gives the coast acquisitions a high rating as diamond pastimers.

Links In New Duds.

Griffin announced today that he had placed an order for new uniforms, both for home and road purposes, and when the Nebraska league season is inaugurated May 15, the Links will be stepping out in duds that are just out of the Reach shop in Philadelphia.

State league magnates are scheduler to gather in Lincoln Friday afternoon in special session, the chief purpose of the meeting being to adopt a playing schedule for the 1934 pennant season. Incidentally, the moguls will discuss and decide the question of permitting Griffin to wear a uniform and participate in league games with his team.

FIFTEEN HIGHS IN RELAYS AT DOANE

CRETE, Neb., April 26—Fifteen teams have entered the first annual Doane college high school relays carnival, which will be held here Friday night, starting at 7:30. There will be no afternoon preliminaries. Group one includes Wilber, Western, Waco, Friend, Cortland, McCool and Endicott. Group two lists Aurora, Hastings, Wymore, Beatrice, Crete, York, Fairbury and Fremont.

JUMPS OVER SIX FEET.

HUNTLEY, Neb., April 26 — Virgil Watts of Huntley featured the Harlan county track meet here with a high jump of 6 feet 1¼ inches. Switaoviak, his teammate, scored 32 points, broke the shot record with a heave of 43 feet 6 inches and ran the 100 yards in 10 2-10 seconds. Orleans won the meet with 58 points. Other scores were Huntley 52½; Alma, 28; Stamford, 9½, Republican City, 7.

Stock Issues Weary After Feeble Efforts To Rally And Turn Downward In Last Hour

Closing Tone in Shares Is Heavy

Numerous Losses Up to 2 Points as Persistent Selling Develops.

NEW YORK, April 26—(AP)—Stocks wearied after rather feeble efforts to rally in the earlier dealings today, and turned decisively downward in the last hour, when persistent selling developed. The closing tone was heavy, with numerous issues off fractions to a couple of points. Transfers approximated 1,700,000 shares.

Stock market sentiment was clouded today by further heaviness of grains and silver and most categories moved irregularly lower afetr holding fairly steady in the first hour or so.

Wheat dropped a cent or more a bushel, cotton was somewhat unsettled and silver futures were off around 1 cent an ounce at one time. Rubber came back moderately following early declines. Bonds were mixed and quiet. Foreign exchanges were uneven. French francs rallied, but the British pound eased.

Shares of industrial Rayon reacted around 5 points and Du Pont and Celanese were down about 2 each. Phelps Dodge got up a point and Kennecott and Anaconda recorded some improvement. Pennsylvania and New York Central were a little higher. Santa Fe cancelled an advance of a point and Southern Pacific sagged. American Shipbuilding and New York Shipbuilding were in demand on prospects of naval expansion. U. S. Smelting and Howe Sound lost about 2 each. The alcohols and most of the utilities were easy. Losers of around a point or more included Case, Pullman, Liggett & Myers B, Chrysler, Columbian Carbon, Pathe, U. S. Rubber and Westinghouse. Liquid Carbonic was active at a point gain. American Telephone, U. S. Steel Bethlehem Steel, General Motors and many others did little.

The compromise wage agreement reached at Washington by the conference of railway managers and union officials removed one of the worries from the financial sector, but there was no rush to accumulate the transportation stocks. The reduction of the Consolidated Gas dividend from 75 to 50 cents was not particularly surprising to market observers.

With the copper code going into effect today, renewed interest was shown in some of the copper issues. Phelps Dodge was aided by news that an important new ore body had been discovered in the company's property at Bisbee, Ariz.

Selling of various textile stocks was attributed partly to the recent downward pressure on Rayon prices due to low silk and acetate rates.

The Bethlehem Steel report, to be made public after the close of the market, was awaited with much interest by traders and many guesses were being made as to the improvement of the corporation's business in the first quarter. At the same time Wall street was wondering if the directors might not decide to make a partial dividend payment on the Bethlehem preferred shares.

Foreign trade figures for March were considered rather optimistic, although comparisons with the same 1933 month were difficult because of the different valuations of the dollar. Exports of merchandise during the month totaled $190,000,000 against $108,015,000 in the corresponding period last year, while imports amounted to $158,000,000 compared with $94,860,000. Imports of gold totaled $237,612,000 as against $14,948,000 in the 1933 month.

The General Motors quarterly report showing net earnings equivalent to 63 cents a share on the common stock was pleasant reading in the financial district. It was pointed out that the company did not hit its real sales stride until late in February, due to production delays. Sales in January amounted to only 62,506 units, while in March the aggregate climbed to 150,250.

On the basis of figures already published, trade analysts estimate that tomorrow's official freight car loadings report will show another contra-seasonal gain. In some quarters it was believed the increase over the preceding week would run between 15,000 and 20,000 cars. The estimated seasonal gain would be around 4,000.

While some disappointment was expressed that revision of the securities act of 1933 was not on the agenda prepared by senate leaders to be carried through before this session ends, it was thought probable that the amendments contemplated might be tacked on to the stock exchange control bill. It was expected that one authority would be designated to administer both the securities law and the regulatory measure.

The statement of the Bank of France, as of April 20, disclosed further gains in gold holdings amounting to some 152,000,000 francs. In the previous week there was an increase in the gold total of about 171,000,000.

At the opening of foreign exchange trading the pound sterling was off ⅜ of a cent at $5.13⅝ and the French franc was slightly firmer at 6.63 cents.

Chicago Grains Average Lower

Wheat Closes Unchanged To ¼ Off; Corn ⅝ To a Cent Down.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 26—(AP)—Fears of renewed liquidation of May contracts did a good deal to make grains average lower today, but did not prevent rallies at the last.

Late rallies were ascribed largely to persistent dry weather complaints. On the other hand, disappointment was expressed over a conference agreement at Washington to enforce 3 cents tax per $100 valuation on commodity exchange futures transactions, whereas the senate had proposed a reduction to 1 cent from 5 cents.

Wheat closed nervous, unchanged to ¼ cent lower compared with yesterday's finish, May and July both 75¾@⅞c. Corn ⅝ to 1 cent down, May 44@44⅛c, July 46½@⅝c. Oats unchanged to ⅛ cent off, and provisions unchanged to a decline of 2 cents.

Grains went lower in price early today after a hesitant start. Moderate selling disclosed that for at least the time being the market was lacking adequte support from buyers. Opening at ¼ cent decline to ¼ cent advance, July 75⅝@¾c, wheat afterwards sagged all around. Corn started unchanged to ⅝ cent higher and subsequently declined.

A decrease of wheat offerings took place after the market had undergone fractional setbacks. Absence of rains, especially in the spring crop belt northwest, caused traders to be reluctant about pressing the selling side. Bulls contended that the whole market situation hinged on immediate moisture, not only over northwest but the west and southwest, and that unless general rains were forthcoming, much enlarged public participation appeared likely.

An authoritative summary covering domestic spring wheat states said that, although an early start was not necessarily essential to a satisfactory outturn, it should be borne in mind that ample moisture has usually accompanied cold backward springs, whereas the present season follows several months of unusually light precipitation. In order to overcome the handicaps of a late start, poorly prepared soil, and entirely inadequate moisture reserve, exceptionally favorable weather, the summary said, would be required to produce even fairly satisfactory crops in the northwest this season. Friends of higher prices emphasized also unofficial predictions that the United States wheat carryover June 30 next would be the smallest in four years and possibly in five. Corn and oats traders took their cue from wheat action.

Provisions were easy, responsive to downturns of hog values and of grains.

About mid-session, wheat was ⅝ to ⅞ cent lower compared with yesterday's finish, and corn was ½ to ⅝ cent down.

Corn receipts in Chicago today were 68 cars, a week ago 45, and a year ago 222.

Wheat futures purchases yesterday totaled 28,199,000 bushels, corn 11,007,000. Open interest in wheat was 101,215,000 bushels, and in corn 77,745,000.

NEW YORK BOND REVIEW.

NEW YORK, April 26—(AP)—Few important changes were recorded in bond market prices today and trading was even duller than that of yesterday. In the corporate list the tone was fairly steady, U. S. governments were narrowly mixed.

Inactivity in the stock market tended toward a further contraction of interest in secondary issues, but in spite of the small volume the majority of price changes were upward in a small way.

Among the moderate gainers were loans of Alleghany Corp., Nickel Plate, Postal Telegraph, American & Foreign Power, United Drug, Chile Copper, Santa Fe, National Dairy Products and Standard Oil of New York.

Small losses occurred in International Telephone 5s, Detroit Edison 4½s, New York Central 5s, Southern Railway 4s and Western Union 5s.

In the foreign section values showed an irregular swing under light dealings. Some of the German issues were turned over in fair volume at rising prices. The 5½s and 7s of Reich made the best showing with gains of around a point.

Japanese loans, which had been under pressure in recent sessions, reflected better support. This was particularly true of the 6½s, which rallied a point during the early trading. The 5½s were steady around yesterday's finals. Australia 5s, Brazil 6½s, and French 7½s yielded fractions.

NEW YORK CURB REVIEW.

NEW YORK, April 26—(AP)—Irregularity continued to prevail in the curb market today and volume held around its recent low levels.

A fair demand appeared for a number of specialties, bringing some price appreciation, but for the most part the market showed inconsequential changes. Sherwin Williams, Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Singer Manufacturing rose a point or more.

New York Steam dropped 2 points on its first transfer of the session and Bunker Hill & Sullivan's initial price represented a loss of 3 points.

Montgomery Ward "A," Newmont Mining, Cord Corp., Swift & Co., Standard Oil of Indiana, Hiram Walker and Distillers-Seagrams were steady to firm. Utilities dragged through dull dealings, but metal issues had a tendency to ease. Lake Shore and Wright Hargreaves being off small fractions.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, April 26—(AP)—COTTON—A slight opening advance in cotton today was followed by renewed weakness under liquidation and local selling. July contracts sold off from 11.21 to 10 96 or 17 points net lower, but offerings tapered off and prices steadied on covering. The demand was comparatively light, however, and trading was quiet during the middle of the afternoon with July selling at 11:05 or 9 points up from the lowest. Prices at 2 o'clock were about 6 to 12 points net lower.

Futures closed steady, 19@21c lower. May 10.73; July 10.92@93; Oct. 11 08@09; Dec. 11.19; Jan. 11 24 Mch., 11.36. Spot quiet middling 10 90.

New York Sugar.

NEW YORK, April 26—(AP)—SUGAR—There was not much activity in the sugar futures market today as the trade awaited the president's signature on the sugar bill. Prices held steady on a little covering and trade buying, but after selling 1 point net higher, there were reactions of a point under liquidation with July contracts selling off from 1.49 to 1 48 and December from 1.62 to 1 61, or back to the previous close, with the market at the beginning of the last hour net unchanged.

Futures closed barely steady, 1c higher to 2c lower; sales 2,350 tons. May 1.44b; July 1 47; Sep., 1 53; Dec., 1 60 Jan. 1.61b; Mch. 1 65b.

GRAIN NOTES

CHICAGO, April 26—(AP)—Reports of widespread drouth in the northwest and critical shortages of moisture in some parts of western Kansas started a buying movement in wheat yesterday. Conditions in western Kansas were described in the government's weekly crop review, but the report stated that eastern Kansas still had sufficient moisture. Almost all northwest states were said to be suffering from a deficiency in subsoil moisture and in some regions there was none.

Much interest was shown by the trade in the extensive buying of wheat futures at Minneapolis recently. The Northwestern Miller's report said the buying was stimulated by the largest flour business in several months, as a result of the break in prices last week. Fifty thousand barrels were said to have been purchased by a southwestern baker.

Illinois farmers were reported to have received government loans on around 65,000,000 bushels of cash corn so far this month, and it was estimated that the total may reach 70,000,000 bushels before the end of the month. This would be more than 50 per cent of the April 1 farm reserves in the state. Coarse grains also are being influenced by weather conditions as much of the corn and oats belt is in the drouth area

The trade was informed that 250,000 bushels of rye were purchased at Duluth for Chicago delivery on May contracts.

For the first three months of this year the road had net operating income of $1,027,765 compared to a deficit of $1,660,253 for the corresponding period in 1933.

Wall Street Briefs

NEW YORK, April 26—The long period of quiet in the wool goods markets appears to be approaching an end, says the New York wool top exchange service, which adds that the buying of popular priced men's suits and overcoats for fall at wholesale is expanding and is expected to lead to the placing of orders for piece goods soon.

Raw sugar shipments from the Philippines to the United States from Nov. 1 1933 to April 15 amounted to 824,900 long tons against 645,726 during the same period in 1932-33 the New York Coffee & Sugar exchange reports. Refined shipments in the same period were 47,288 tons against 37,398 in the previous year.

The Standard Statistics Co. estimates corporate bond maturities during May at $80,594,000. April maturities amounted to $215,596,501.

Good Is Prosecutor And Also Defender Land Commissioner

Attorney General Good is in the position of both prosecutor and defender of Land Commissioner Harry Conklin. As prosecutor, Good has brought three criminal actions against Conklin for allegedly operating a pay-off system with capitol employes as the payors and is asking the supreme court to oust the state officer in a fourth action.

In lawsuits involving leases on state school lands, however, lessees of school lands have brought suits to enjoin Conklin and purchasers of recently forfeited leases from dispossessing them. As attorney for Conklin, Good is defending the state officer in his duty laid down by the board of educational lands and funds, of which Conklin is a member, along wih the attorney general.

Petition Seeking Put Cochran In Governor Race Cannot Be Filed

A petition with forty signatures sent from Scottsbluff, asking to have the name of State Engineer Roy Cochran printed on the democratic primary ballot as a candidate for governor, was received at Secretary of State Swanson's office Thursday. Since no receipt showing payment of a filing fee in Scotts Bluff county came with it, and as Cochran's written acceptance is also lacking, the petition cannot be filed. It is being held pending further developments. Cochran has been out of town the last few days, and nobody at his office was prepared to guess what his personal response may be to the efforts of his friends to get him into the gubernatorial race.

LEGISLATOR RESIGNS.

State Representative Joseph G. Adams of Omaha, one of the democratic members from Douglas county, has sent his resignation to Governor Bryan, explaining that he is required to do so under federal regulations. Adams is now holding some kind of a position under the national government. The resignation was accepted by the governor, but no appointment will be made to fill the place, inasmuch as there is to be no further session of the legislature unless an extraordinary emergency should develop causing the governor to call one.

THINKS CONDIT'S REMOVAL WRONG

Griswold Says Efficiency Was Sacrificed For Politics.

GORDON, Neb., April 26—(AP)—Recalling the removal of W. C. Condit, now Lincoln's police chief, from the position of state sheriff by Gov. Bryan when he took office almost four years ago, Dwight P. Griswold, candidate for the republican gubernatorial nomination, today said Nebraska wants efficiency and "not petty politics" in its law enforcement department.

"The latest Dillinger escapades have brought home to everyone the need of more efficient police methods," Griswold said. "The state has an important duty to perform. It must provide a state sheriff who can co-ordinate the activities of all police officers in the state and weld them into an efficient organization which will keep the state clear of the criminal element. It will not require much more money than is now being spent, but it will require more ability—and certainly less politics.

"The first and most important change that must be made by the state is to cease using the state sheriff's force as a part of anyone's personal political machine. The chief and his deputies must be chosen on the basis of ability and not for the purpose of paying political debts. I am of the opinion that Governor Bryan's removal of Bill Condit, solely for political reasons, has done more than any other one thing to wreck the efficiency of our state police organization."

Parade By Students Planned as Feature Of Bryan 'Send Off'

Fair weather was in prospect to add to the demonstration which certain democratic leaders have prepared for Governor Bryan Thursday afternoon, on the eve of his departure for Washington. The reception was to be staged on the broad, north approach to the capitol, with John Weller, university instructor, in the role of principal speaker.

One of the sponsors of the demonstration said 600 university students would parade from the campus to the state house.

Governor Bryan plans to leave Lincoln later this week for Washington, to be present at the unveiling of a monument to the memory of his brother, W. J. Bryan.

The reception Thursday afternoon was planned as a demonstration of affection to the governor.

ROKEBY CLASS HERE

The graduating class of the Rokeby high school, numbering fifteen, was in Lincoln Thursday inspecting the capitol and university. They were accompanied by Glenn Turner, principal. Miss Esther Abbott was in charge of a clas of 7 from Westerville.

7 Days For The Price Of 4 Lasts For Only A Few More Days---B-1234

Death Penalty For Kidnaping Is Given O.K. by Committee

WASHINGTON, April 26—(AP)—A measure to permit the death penalty for interstate kidnapings was approved today by the house judiciary committee.

The bill also provides that failure of the kidnap victim to be returned in seven days shall be presumed as evidence of his having been transported across a state line.

The death penalty would not be imposed if the victim were returned in sound health.

The committee also approved another measure asked by the attorney geenral, to make it a federal offense to incite riots, assist in escapes and other offenses in connection with federal penal institutions.

Majority Leader Byrons said today the crime bills so far acted upon should be taken up tomorrow by the house and passed without delay.

CHILD IS INJURED.

(Special to The Star).

CRETE, Neb., April 26 — Adolph Kubicek, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kubicek, was found unconscious and with a fractured nose, Tuesday, in the barn where he had gone to see a new-born colt. It is believed that he was kicked.

35 HIGH SCHOOLS IN CONTESTS HERE

Farm Judging Competition Starts At University of Nebraska Agricultural College.

Thirty-five Nebraska high schools were represented in the twentieth annual agricultural judging contests which started at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture Thursday The competition ends Friday, when all winners will be announced at the annual banquet scheduled for the student activities building.

C. C. Minteer, chairman of the contest committee, announced Thursday morning the arrival of two late schools—Genoa and Stapleton. Previously 33 schools had officially entered the competition which includes in all phases of agriculture.

Opening the day's' activities Thursday was the dairy cattle judging contest under the direction of Prof. R. F. Morgan. Boys interested in woodwork were competing in such a contest Grain judging and identification and judging of poultry and dairy products drew many etrants. An egg show was to start soon after noon.

Future farm orators were to battle it out Thursday afternoon for the championship of public speaking. Dennis Clark, Stapleton youth who won the western Nebraska title in a contest at North Platte recently, was to compete. Other entrants included William Liddy, Ashland; Robert York, Barneston; Curtis John, Mead; Wilfred Stonebraker, Neligh; Floyd Ralston, Orleans; Harold House, Ponca; and Don Leibert, Sargent. The winner will represent Nebraska in a national contest this fall.

Twenty boys are to be honored Thursday evening as the annual state convention of Future Farmers of America convenes on the campus. Wallace Thorson, Mead, president, will preside. The boys will be named "state farmers". Delegates to the convention were expected to revise their state constitution to fit the national document.
